Republican Leaders Not Alarmed at Reports of Disaffection.

PAYNE IS CONFIDENT

Western States Sure to Vote for Their Ideal—Latest Analysis of the Situation.

SILVER DEAD IN COLORADO

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.

Roosevelt does not need New York next year. He can win without it. He wants it, of course, and there is every probability that the electoral vote of that state will be cast for him, but a glance at the situation shows that he can win handsomely without New York state's electors.

Eastern interests that are opposed to Roosevelt have recently been circulating reports that New York was in danger and that President Roosevelt was worried over the prospect. Republican leaders in Washington see nothing to cause alarm and are certain that New York will go for Roosevelt by a big majority. But if it doesn't it will have no effect upon the result. Enough electoral votes are as sure for Roosevelt as human certainty can go to give him a large margin.

Postmaster General Payne, who is vice president of the Republican national committee, has confidence that New York will be found in the Roosevelt column. He cannot see the least thing to be worried over in the present situation. He also believes that all the states west of the Mississippi river, except those that are classed as southern states, will go for Roosevelt. In 1892 Cleveland carried New York by 45,000 and four years later McKinley carried it with the tremendous plurality of 268,000. In 1900 McKinley again carried it by 143,000. The anti-Roosevelt interests find hope in the fact that Roosevelt, when elected governor in 1898, had a plurality of only 17,786 and that Odell was elected governor last year by only 8,803.

Source of Democratic Hope.

The fact that Judge Alton B. Parker was elected chief justice on the Democratic ticket in 1897 by 60,889 is construed by the Democrats as meaning that he can carry the state next year if he is nominated for president by the Democratic convention. All estimates of New York going Democratic next year are based upon the supposition that a harmony deal will be made by the Democrats and that the anti-Bryan wing will make the platform and name the candidate.

The following table shows that Roosevelt is not dependent upon New York for his election and while it is considered safe by Republican leaders, yet with placing it in the doubtful column, Roosevelt will have a big majority in the electoral college.

Delaware Is Doubtful.

Delaware is placed in the doubtful column because whether its electoral vote goes for the Republican ticket or not will depend upon the status of the factional fight that has been waging in that state for several years. If the Addicks and the anti-Addicks factions each put up an electoral ticket, it is quite probable that the Democratic will win, but if these factions get together and vote for

SENATORS CALL AT OYSTER BAY

Consult With President on Proposed Financial Measure.

AIMING AT HARMONY

Senatorial Committee Willing to Accept Amendments to Present United Front.

NICE TRIP TO TWIN ISLAND

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Currency legislation was the subject of a conference held on short notice at Sagamore Hill tonight. It was participated in by President Roosevelt and Senators Aldrich, Allison, Platt and Spooner.

The arrangements for the visit were made by Senator Spooner, who was in New York Monday and who arrived at Senator Aldrich's home (Warwick, R. I.) yesterday. Here Senator Spooner found Senators Aldrich, Platt and Allison, who had assembled to put into the form of a bill the joint result of their individual cogitations which have been taking form ever since the senate adjourned in March.

When the senators got together it was found that President Roosevelt had some very cleverly defined ideas about legislation. Mr. Roosevelt has caused it to be known that while it was desirable that the bill to be passed should have practically the united support of the Republicans of the senate and house it was also important that the measure should be on broad lines and not open to the charge that it was planned to make it easy for the banks to get money out of the treasury in order to lend it when stock speculators "got in a hole."

The senators decided to come to Oyster Bay and tell the president just what the committee contemplated, to have a talk about the whole scheme and find out exactly what suggestions, if any, the president had to make.

The Senators Arrive.

The yacht Vergena steamed into the bay at 5:30 o'clock this evening. The party proceeded to the president's house. The senators all said they were not prepared to discuss any of the features of the bill on which they had been at work. They made it clear, however, that they brought with them in concrete form a statement of the various propositions to which they have agreed.

The conclusions of the committee have been reached after a very careful canvass of the sentiment of the country. Not only have various leading members of the house of representatives been consulted, but bankers and business men of nearly every state in the union. The main point has been to get a bill that will pass and in order to do this it is to be made an administration measure. The idea of having it on broad lines and above criticism has constantly been before the committee.

It can be stated that the Aldrich bill of last session has been abandoned, though some of the features which it contained may be found in the new bill. The proposition to secure government deposits on the security of railroad, municipal and county bonds instead of government bonds, so that the government bonds could be released to be put up for additional circulation, has met with much opposition in the west. This feature, it is said, has been dropped.

An Important Provision.

It is probable that the first thing in the bill will be a provision for the deposit of customs receipts in the banks. The problem of an emergency circulation based on the assets of banks, to be retired when the emergency passes, has been discussed in half a dozen different forms. A provision looking to temporarily increasing the circulation has been formulated and was laid before the president tonight.

The most hopeful sign that something may be accomplished is the growing feeling among the senators that they will be able to agree with the leaders of the house. To get harmony it is necessary to adopt a policy of "give and take," and this policy is being pursued.

It is reported that Representative Can-

AMERICAN FISHING BOAT IS RIDDLED WITH SHOT FROM A CANADIAN SHIP

Revenue Cutter Petrel Fires Upon Silver Spray of Erie.

CHASED ACROSS THE LINE

Small Vessel Is Badly Splintered and Sailor Severely Wounded.

WILL NOTIFY WASHINGTON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Erie, Aug. 12.—The Silver Spray, a fishing boat owned here, came into port this afternoon in a badly shattered condition, due to encounter in mid-lake about noon with the Canadian revenue cutter Petrel. The Canadian authorities have had trouble with American fishermen for years, who were poaching on their side of the lake, and the Petrel is kept constantly on the lookout for them.

Today she came upon the Silver Spray on the Canadian side and at once ordered Capt. Christian Chau to stop. The Petrel is a strong steel craft and attempted to ram the American boat before she could comply with the former's order. Capt. Chau, remembering the fate of several other boats from this side, which had been captured and confiscated, two from Erie only last season, decided to try to escape and started ahead at full speed.

The captain of the Petrel when he saw that the Silver Spray was trying to get away, opened fire with all the guns he had, and before he ceased firing some 20 shots had struck the Silver Spray. One passing through the smokestack into the pilot house in which Chau stood at the wheel, and two more struck the pilot house, one of which came within a few inches of him, scattering splinters around his head. One shot grazed the nose of one of the crew and all the others, of which there were several, had narrow escapes.

The only man injured on the Silver Spray was Frederick Culver, who was hit in the leg by a shot. He is now in the hospital here. The fishermen say the Petrel used her small deck cannon.

That no one was killed is simply remarkable, as two shots entered the cabin, two in the roof, three in the after hurricane deck and the others in various parts of the boat.

The chase was kept up for some little time and Capt. Chau was nearly in despair as his hold water pump refused to work and he was also afraid that his boat might be struck below the water line and sunk. He was very lucky, however, to get across the line, and the Petrel gave up pursuit. The Silver Spray is a double-decker and was for 12 years in service at Buffalo, as a pleasure steamer.

Capt. Chau will report the affair to the state department at Washington, as he says he was only looking for some of his nets which had drifted from this side toward the Canadian shore.

A large number of American fishing tugs have been captured on the other side in the last few years, and all have been confiscated by the Canadian government. One, however, belonging at Dunkirk, was a few weeks ago ordered returned by Secretary of State Hay.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Up to a late hour tonight the state department had received no advices regarding the occurrence. Acting Secretary of State Loomis, in the absence of any report from Capt. Chau on the subject, declined to make any statement concerning the international aspect of the case.

PROBING DEEP INTO CHARGES

Ten Witnesses Heard in Alleged Bribery Case at Clarion.

MONEY IS MISSING

Investigation Fails to Reveal School Funds Charged Up to Repairs.

FICTITIOUS BILL PRESENTED

Clarion, Pa., Aug. 12.—At the investigation held today by the committee of trustees of the Clarion State Normal school in regard to the charges brought recently by L. M. Shannon, that $2,750 of the school's money had been fraudulently paid out, 10 witnesses were heard. A. G. Corbett, E. C. Falloon, T. L. Ray, Dr. Fitzgerald, W. Day Wilson and S. S. Laughlin all testified that they had known nothing of the alleged 10 per cent "rake off" until they had read about it in the papers. Ray and Falloon said they were both on the household committee, and approved the bill for $2,750 for repairs, but that was all they knew about it.

Knew Money Was to Be Paid.

R. G. Yingling said that he never got any of the money, but that he knew it was to be paid for getting the appropriation, and that Registrar James L. Pinks made out and presented the bill for repairs. He told Pinks to go ahead, and that whatever was done would be all right.

Mr. Pinks stated that he presented the bill for repairs, and that this was to pay for legislative expenses in getting the appropriation. He said that Senator Neeley showed him letters in which it was stated that this amount, 10 per cent, must be paid to get the appropriation. Pinks said he told Neeley that this seemed a high price and that Neeley replied that some schools paid 17 per cent, and that he had made the arrangements and would see that it was paid.

Pinks said that in August, 1902, he understood that ex-Senator Mitchell was in town to get the money, and that he then wrote the Hon. J. A. F. Hoy the order to get the money and pay it to Mitchell.

Hoy Said He Got Order.

Mr. Hoy denied that he knew anything about any arrangement to pay for the appropriation at the time it was gotten. He admitted that he received the $2,750 from I. M. Shannon on an order from Mr. Pinks, and said that he turned the whole amount over to ex-Senator Mitchell on the same day. He said that Mitchell told him, consequently, that this money was used as expenses in the passage of the measure.

Prof. Davis presented a clipping from a newspaper of August, 1902, as his statement. The committee, after hearing this testimony, decided to adjourn, and will meet on August 21, to again take up the case. Senator A. M. Neeley and ex-Senator Mitchell will be asked to appear on that date.

TUMBLE INTO BIGELOW'S NET

Democrats Again Surrender Their Organization and Accept His Alms.

GET PROTHONOTARY

Brennen Capitulates and J. M. Guffey Issues a Statement Saying That He Is Satisfied.

LARKIN IS STILL DEFIANT

Thomas S. Bigelow has again captured the Democratic organization. William J. Brennen has obediently shelved his alleged ambition to be district attorney and with Commissioner James A. Clark has tumbled into the Bigelow net. For this capitulation the Democrats are to be allowed to name the candidate for prothonotary. Col. J. M. Guffey says that whatever the Democratic organization does will be satisfactory to him. This is the second time within a car that Bigelow has demonstrated that he is boss of the Democratic party.

There is no question about the disappointment of Col. Guffey over the outcome. He had expected that Brennen would stand out against Bigelow, and while he is silent on the subject, there is every reason for believing that the capitulation of Brennen came as a bitter surprise. Last night he smothered his real feelings and issued this statement:

"I was very much disappointed when Mr. Brennen finally refused to remain as a candidate. He had earned the support of both the Democratic and the Citizens party and I believe his nomination would have made the election of the ticket possible. In addition to this he has always been my friend. As far as the office of district attorney itself goes, I have no personal interest and insofar as the making up of the ticket is now concerned I have no suggestions. Whatever the Democratic organization does in the matter will be satisfactory to me."

Larkin is Defiant.

Controller John P. Larkin is another Democrat who had hoped for a greater show of independence on the part of Mr. Brennen. To date he has not surrendered to Bigelow. "I never go backward" is the way he put it yesterday. "I made a statement of my position a couple of weeks ago and have seen no reason to change my mind."

It was on the afternoon of July 30 that Mr. Larkin made a new declaration of his independence. It came after Bigelow had failed to arrange a harmony program with the Republicans. This is what he said then and what he now says that he still stands by:

I don't see anything for the Democrats and Independent Republicans to do but to stand their ground, select men every one of them, and go on with the fight against both rings. There is splendid material for leadership in and out of councils, and the people seem more anxious than ever to have government of their own liking. They have the power and will likely use it. The Democrats, it seems to me, should stand as they have stood and insist on new leadership for the Citizens party, or cut loose from unfortunate combinations and put up their own ticket, pledged to principles as formulated by the fusion movement of 1902.

Those who desire to form the new party are awaiting the return of Councilman W. H. Stevenson. He is expected home from his vacation this week. Oliver McClintock, another prominent member of the Municipal league, is out of the city.

Field Day for Bigelow.

After a couple of weeks of Democratic conferences and frequent declarations that Bigelow would be shown that he did not run the local Democracy, the head of the Citizens party had the satisfaction of sitting in his office and receiving the surrender of the newspaper warriors. He then told them what they could have and the aims were accepted.

Promptly at 2 o'clock W. J. Brennen and James A. Clark appeared at Bigelow's office. They were with Bigelow for a few minutes and then left the building. At the end of the conference, Bigelow made this statement:

"To prevent complications in the fusion movement, I have decided not to be a candidate for district attorney. I have withdrawn absolutely."

Clark said that he would name a fusion committee at once. He said Brennen would be a member.

Bigelow announced that Brennen had withdrawn and declared for fusion. "It was agreed," said he, "that the Democrats should have the prothonotary and the jury commissioner. I do not know whom they will name for prothonotary, except that they say he will be a German."

Bigelow said that the indications pointed to the nomination of Harry L. Goehring of Allegheny for district attorney. When asked for the name of his sheriffalty candidate, Bigelow, addressing the newspapermen, said:

"He is a young man, well known to all of you, and you will all vote for him."

Slate the Ticket Tuesday.

Bigelow announced that Brennen and Clark had agreed to have a joint meeting of the fusion committees at Citizens headquarters Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. "At that meeting," said Bigelow, "the ticket will be named."

Clark said last night that he would announce his committee tonight. Brennen disagrees with him and says that there will be no announcement until next week. George S. Fleming, the other member of the Democratic committee, is to return to the city Sunday, and Brennen probably wants to give him a part in the selection of the committee. Bigelow is expecting that Guffey will be a member of the committee, but the colonel states positively that he will not serve. Clark, Brennen and Fleming will be three of the five conferees.

Clark explained that Bigelow misunderstood what he and Brennen meant about having a German at the ticket. They told him that one of the nominees should be of that race. Bigelow has all of his ears stated and now proposes to have the Democrats select their own opposition.

WALL STREET PLUNGER IS ALMOST A WRECK

Physicians of John W. Gates Have Trouble Controlling Wilful Patient.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The health of John W. Gates is causing anxiety to his relatives and friends. Since coming here he has grown steadily worse. So alarming was his condition yesterday afternoon that a telegram was sent to New York to Dr. McBurney, who was asked to come into a consultation to consider the case. Dr. McBurney was at his summer home in Massachusetts, but he responded to the call as soon as a train could bring him here. It has been feared that an operation would be required to relieve the patient. Dr. McBurney decided that for the present no operation is required.

Great difficulties have resulted from the intense nervousness of Mr. Gates. His physicians have found it impossible to control him. He has rebelled against being ill and he has refused to admit he is anything more than debilitated. Dr. McBurney impressed upon Mr. Gates that his case is one of great seriousness and if he wishes to recover he must put aside his ambitions and place himself entirely in the hands of his physicians. He particularly forbade his moving about.

Mr. Gates is the merest shadow of his former self. He was 60 pounds lighter when he came here than he was a year ago. He is constantly in a state of great nervousness and he has a high temperature and a rapid pulse every night. As one of his friends stated tonight, Mr. Gates has a complication of about all of the diseases that ordinarily fall upon mankind.

FIREMEN CAUSE RIOT IN STREET AT LATROBE

Priest's Carriage Is Attacked and Driver Suffers a Broken Arm.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., Aug. 12.—During the firemen's convention this afternoon a riot occurred in the streets, being caused, it is said by some firemen. While Father Virgil of the St. Vincent's monastery was driving a visiting priest to the station he was met by a crowd of firemen. The firemen, it is said, frightened the horse, which plunged about and finally dashed into the crowd of firemen and trampled upon two of them, one being John McGillicuddy. The other managed to get away. Although neither was hurt badly the crowd started jeering at the priests and finally, after having sticks and stones hurled at them, the priests managed to escape.

John Stader of Station street, whose brother, Charles Stader of the monastery, had been driving, climbed into the cab and tried to reason with the crowd. He received a shower of missiles. A club struck him on the arm, breaking it, and he was also badly bruised about the head.

The firemen who did not participate in the riot are indignant and say if the ringleaders of the mob can be identified they will be expelled from their departments. At the monastery nothing could be learned about the priests, but it is not thought they are seriously injured.

WILD PANIC FOLLOWS A SLIGHT EXPLOSION

Four Women Hurt and 100 Fainted in Mad Rush at Cartridge Works.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—During an explosion of cartridges at the United States arsenal at Frankford this afternoon a panic occurred among the women and girl workers. With cries for help, many jumped from windows. Four were injured and fully 100 fainted. The building was damaged and the fire that followed added to the danger and confusion.

The building where the explosion occurred is a two-story brick used for loading cartridges with bullets, the powder being placed in them in another part of the plant. Machines are used to place the bullets in the shells, and it is supposed the explosion was caused by one of the cartridges becoming caught in the mechanism.

SHEATHED IN COPPER.

Electric Railways Take Precautions to Prevent Another Paris Disaster.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The passenger cars of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad will soon be copper-sheathed as a safeguard against fire and eventually every passenger coach of the system will be armored in the same manner.

The two cars which were originally equipped with the copper sheating, seven years ago, have given such good general results and have proved so successful under tests that 120 new cars are now being so equipped in the several car shops of the company. The Interborough railway of New York is also using the copper sheath process in its new cars for the subway, which are being built under the same sheathing patent as those of the "Consolidated" railroad here.

FIFTY-EIGHT VICTIMS ARE BURIED IN PARIS

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Fifty-eight victims of the Metropolitan tunnel catastrophe were buried today. The funerals were held chiefly in the quarter where the disaster occurred. The rest of the victims will be buried tomorrow, when a formal ceremony will be held. The Metropolitan Railway Company has given 22,000 to the families of the victims. The judicial investigations into the causes of the accident are proceeding.

W. J. BRYAN PURCHASES PABST AND ROOSEVELT

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—William Jennings Bryan has purchased a team of horses worth about $1,200. They are a buxxy, a pair of spanking chestnuts known as Pabst and Roosevelt, and Milwaukee people will remember them as among the equines shown at the recent horse show. The deal for their sale has just been consummated by Charles Hasert, Normal Ill., the former owner. Mr. Bryan saw the team at the Milwaukee horse show.

GOV. NASH TOO ILL TO MAKE SPEECHES

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Dr. E. J. Wilson, Gov. Nash's physician, told the governor today that he must take no part in the coming campaign. The governor's general physical condition is better than it has been for some months, but the weakness of his heart action makes it dangerous for him to undergo any unusual activity or excitement. He had intended to take the stump for Hanna and Morris.

WORSHIP WITH SUN DANCE ON PAR WITH RELIGION

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Dr. George A. Dorsey, curator of anthropology of the Field Columbian museum of Chicago, has given out an interview concerning his recent visit with Dr. Mooney, to the Cheyenne Indians in Oklahoma. He contends the sun dance is religion to the Indians and that they have a right to celebrate it under the clause of the Constitution granting American citizens freedom of worship.

With regard to statements made to the Indian bureau at Washington by Mr. Seger, superintendent of the reservation school, Dr. Dorsey makes charges of duplicity and ignorance and says that Seger's allegations were not disinterested.

"Concerning the torture itself which Mr. Seger describes," said Dr. Dorsey, "not only did Dr. Mooney and myself not instigate, but we actually knew nothing about it until the Indian was well on his way, making his rounds of the camp circle. This torture occurred, by the way, on the morning following the final rites of the ceremony and had nothing to do with the performance of the so-called sun dance."

THIRTY KILLED BY HURRICANE

Great Devastation and Loss of Life on the Island of Jamaica.

MANY VILLAGES WIPED OUT

Plantations Are Demolished, Shipping is Paralyzed and Business is Demoralized—Rain Increases Misery of Poor and Homeless.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Aug. 12.—The effects of the hurricane upon the Island of Jamaica were greater than at first believed. Port Antonio, on the north coast, was completely overwhelmed. Only six houses were left standing there. The United Fruit Company's wharves, offices, hotel and plantations were utterly demolished. Five of the company's steamers, including the Simon Dumois, Alfred Dumois and Brignton, were driven ashore but are lying in easy positions. Port Maria, another town on the north coast, also suffered similarly. The coast is strewn with wreckage of local sailing vessels.

It is feared that the loss of life has been heavy, 30 fatalities having already been reported, principally among seamen.

The entire eastern end of the island has been devastated. Villages have been wiped out and public buildings and churches demolished. Thousands of the peasantry, rendered homeless and destitute, are wandering about seeking food and shelter. The destruction of the banana plantations has been complete and the fruit trade is paralyzed for the next 12 months. Hundreds of prosperous fruit growers have been brought to bankruptcy and ruin.

The western end of the island, which it was at first supposed had escaped, also suffered considerably, though not to the extent which the eastern end did. New banana plantations planted there were partly destroyed and the orange and coffee crops were also injured.

The Norwegian steamer Salvatore de Giorgio was driven ashore at Annotta bay and lies in a dangerous position. Several sailing vessels were wrecked on the north side. It is still stormy and threatening and there is no hope that there may be a renewal of the storm. Torrential rains have increased the misery of the poor and homeless. Thousands of houses in Kingston were damaged, the wharves were battered and several coasting vessels were sunk in the harbor. Trade is practically at a standstill.

The southeastern portion of the island has been completely denuded of its crops, the rivers are flooded and many men were carried out to sea and drowned. Considering the damage to property during the hurricane, the loss of life is comparatively small, though the present estimate is now that the death list will reach 50. Hundreds of persons were injured and there were numerous hairbreadth escapes. The property loss is estimated at $10,000,000.

HAVANA, Aug. 12.—While high winds and threatening conditions prevail in all the provinces of Cuba, there have been reports, up to the present, of any important damage. The land telegraph connection with Santiago, which was repeatedly interrupted, has been restored. There was some destruction of crops and small buildings in the province of Pinar del Rio, where the wind appears to have been strongest.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The tropical storm was apparently central this afternoon near extreme Western Cuba and rearing, will probably enter the southeastern Gulf of Mexico tonight, and move northward or northeastward tomorrow. Hurricane warnings have been continued from Port Eads to Jupiter and storm warnings from Jacksonville to Charleston.

ARREST HAS BEEN MADE IN THE CANTRELL CASE

Another Principal in Wholesale Murders Taken Into Custody.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 12.—The police have arrested William McElroy, Jr., one of the two McElroys named as principals in the murders exposed by the confessions of Cantrell and Martin. It is believed that he has weakened under the searching questions and has given out additional facts. At the same time the police unearthed another cold-blooded murder committed by Cantrell, the two McElroys and Buckner. Detectives also have been able to find half a dozen witnesses who corroborate Cantrell and Martin, in their statements regarding this murder. These witnesses are under surveillance.

Johnson's murdered body was sold to the Central Medical College. He was killed for $400, which he had when he came to Newark, N. J. His murder was deliberately planned. He was lured to a lonely spot and there his skull was crushed by a club in the hands of William McElroy. The liveryman who saw the three men, Cantrell, McElroy, Sr., and Buckner, in the carriage after the murder had been committed, and the tailor who cleaned blood from Cantrell's clothing have been found. The police are now searching for William McElroy, Sr.

Another victim, whose name is withheld, develops the fact that in the cellar of the North street rendezvous the body of a third victim, a white woman, was concealed. The identity of this body is still a mystery. Neither Cantrell nor Martin has ever made any mention of it.

FOSTER TO SUPERSEDE MINISTER LEISHMANN?

President Becomes Impatient at Delay in Securing Satisfaction from Turkey.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—The Boston Advertiser's Oyster Bay special will say tomorrow: It is reported here that President Roosevelt has determined to send John W. Foster, one of the most versatile diplomats in the country, to Constantinople to straighten out the tangle into which Minister Leishmann has got himself by his dilatory action.

The president is very much incensed at Leishmann's failure to make the sultan take some decided action in the Tenikjian case (the American trained Armenian teacher who was imprisoned and tortured) and in the matter of the payment of Miss Ellen M. Stone's ransom, which has been hanging fire for some time.

Mr. Leishmann was appointed minister to Switzerland in 1897. He was transferred to Turkey in 1901, relieving Minister Terrell. The special says that the president sends Foster to practically supersede Leishmann, a sort of "Paramount Blount" position. He will investigate all the affairs of the American interests in Turkey and his report to the president will be most interesting.

Hailstones Ten Inches in Length.

A Denver paper received today describes the hailstorm of Wednesday last as the most terrific of modern times. Hailstones ranging from the size of croquet balls to 10 inches in length fell to a depth of two feet, wrecking houses and killing stock. All crops in the path of the storm were completely destroyed. Lovers of fine cantaloupes will be pleased to learn that our crops at Rocky Ford have not been damaged. A telegram received from our manager today states that the melons are getting finely and promise excellent quality. Our first car of "Stag Brand" will probably arrive here about August 20, the crop being somewhat late, owing to the spring frosts. You will be repaid for waiting, however, as, owing to favorable atmospheric conditions this season, the melons will be of unusual excellence. Only see that you get the genuine "Stag Brand" and you will be satisfied with life.

MINORITY SENDS UP FIERCE HOWL

Defeated Faction of Hamilton County, O., Democrats Hold Rump Session.

PREACHER AT THEIR HEAD

Accuses County Leader of Gaining Control of Convention Through an Alliance With George B. Cox, the Cincinnati Republican Leader.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12.—Forty delegates, who held a second convention this afternoon, after the Democratic convention of Hamilton county had adjourned, have called a public meeting at G. A. R. hall for next Friday night. It is specified that one of the objects of the meeting is to protest against the leadership of Lewis G. Bernard, who is charged with controlling the local organization through an alliance with George B. Cox, the local Republican leader.

The dissenting delegates at their convention this afternoon appointed a committee consisting of the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, Henry Imwalle, E. S. Oakley, Philip Dobert and Thomas Bentham, to report on a plan for bringing the contests of Hamilton county, first before the Democratic central committee and afterwards before the committee on credentials, and the state convention and this committee will report at the opening of the mass meeting on Friday night.

Among the seats in the state convention thus contested is that of Melville D. Ingalls, who is prominently mentioned for senatorial endorsement. The local faction, headed by Bernard, represents those favorable to John L. Zimmerman for governor, and the faction headed by Bigelow, represents those favorable to Tom Johnson.

At the primaries last night members of the county executive committee were elected, in the second ward Lewis G. Bernard and A. G. Turnipseed each claimed 215 votes. Each charged the other with fraud and with having only 214 votes. The executive committee, at the convention today, decided the contest in favor of Bernard.

The Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, who headed the Democratic state ticket last year for secretary of state, and was defeated at the primaries yesterday for election as a delegate, was repeatedly refused the floor by Chairman Joel Giere. As soon as the convention adjourned Bigelow called the delegates to order again, and addressed them on what he called the infamous proceedings. He said that Melville D. Ingalls, F. D. Grosbeck and others had been selected to lend respectability to the delegation, but that the delegates to the state convention were selected by a committee of five that had been fixed in advance by Bernard.

A general discussion followed, one of the questions being whether there was any difference between a Republican and a Cox Democrat. It was charged by those who followed Bigelow that Bernard was in league with George B. Cox, the Republican leader of this city.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The sub-committee of the Democratic state central committee appointed to consider the indorsement by the coming state convention of the five pending constitutional amendments, today disagreed. Action was postponed until August 24. The committee locked horns on the governor's veto amendment. Charles W. Stage of Cleveland, Johnson's representative, favored its indorsement. Senator J. E. Hurst of New Philadelphia, a Zimmerman man, declared that the conservatives should defeat the amendments. Judge George B. Okey of Columbus opposed the amendment on the ground that it is loosely drawn. The three conferees agreed in their opposition to the municipal classification amendment and that giving each county at least one representative in the lower house.

PREACHER ARRESTED AS A COMMON THIEF

Well-Known Writer on Theological Subjects Accused of Stealing Umbrellas.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—Looking the picture of distress, the Rev. John V. Morgan, clergyman and author, was tried before Magistrate Kochesperger in the Central police court today, to answer the charge of having stolen two umbrellas from a store in Market street.

"I have a distinct recollection of you, Mr. Morgan," said Magistrate Kochesperger to the prisoner, after the woman detective, who arrested him, had concluded her testimony. "It has only been several Sundays ago since you were arraigned before me, charged with being drunk on the previous night. I let you go. Two days later you were again brought before me for drunkenness."

Morgan was then committed to the county prison in default of $800 bail for a further hearing next Monday. Morgan is the author of the following books: "The Cambro-American Pulpit," "The Life and Works of Kilsby Jones," "Unitarianism and Evangelicalism" and "Theology at the Dawn of the Twentieth Century."

SENATOR'S GUESTS ARE VICTIMS OF POISONING

Luncheon Given at Sale Causes Severe Illness Among the Participants.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—A remarkable case of ptomaine poisoning is reported tonight from Ashburne, Va., some 20 miles outside of Washington. A large number of persons had gathered to attend the sale of the dairy farm owned by Senator Stewart, of Nevada. The senator served the prospective buyers a light luncheon, consisting of coffee, ham and beef sandwiches. Shortly afterward at least 50 persons were taken violently ill, suffering from ptomaine poisoning. One after another they fell to the ground, writhing in agony. Horsemen were dispatched in all directions for doctors, and a number responded and took prompt measures to relieve the sufferers.

In a statement issued at 11 o'clock tonight the doctors report their patients out of danger, although many still are quite ill. An investigation developed the fact that the beef, which had been purchased in Washington and kept in cold storage for several days, was the cause of the trouble.

AUTO RIDE PREVENTS AN ILLEGAL MARRIAGE

United States Senator Heyburn from Idaho Secures License in Wrong County.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 12. — A large red automobile, carrying a chauffeur and C. Wesley Talbot, a lawyer, rushed over the country roads from this place to Kennett Square today to save United States Senator Weldon B. Heyburn, of Idaho, from illegally becoming the husband of Miss Gherating Yeatman.

It was not until this morning that it was discovered that the wedding, if it took place, would be illegal; that the senator had a license, issued in Philadelphia, and the wedding was scheduled to take place in Chester county. The clerk of the Chester county court was enlisted in the cause.

When Mr. Talbot arrived in his automobile everything was in readiness for the wedding, but it was delayed until the arrival of the clerk of the court. The latter carried a blank license in his pocket, which was quickly filled out, and soon the senator and Miss Yeatman were married.

TO GET ALL THE NEWS FIRST YOU MUST READ THE GAZETTE

When you pick up The Gazette every morning you are certain that you are about to read a whole lot of bright crisp news that you are not going to find in the other Pittsburgh papers. It's a habit The Gazette has of printing, every day, news items from all over the world that are exclusively its own, and the hardest efforts of its cotemporaries to equal it are of no avail. Now and then one of them comes near it. An instance of this is the coming retirement of Secretary of War Root. The fact that he would quit active work on August 22, when he sails for Europe, and that his successor would be W. H. Taft, was printed in The Gazette Tuesday. One other Pittsburgh paper hinted at it, but without definitely saying so. Yesterday they all printed it as fresh news.

The Gazette's new facilities are unequaled, and with careful editing all of the news is presented in such a concise, crisp manner that the reader has no difficulty in quickly learning all that is going on. With two leased wires—one connecting with New York and Philadelphia and the other with New York, Chicago, Louisville, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Columbus, O., Atlanta and Memphis—nothing escapes The Gazette. If you want all the news all the time and first, you must read The Gazette.

TUMBLE INTO BIGELOW'S NET

Germans with barrels are now urged to apply to the Democracy:

The Bigelow slating committee is composed of T. S. Bigelow, M. A. Verner, Mayor W. B. Hays, E. J. McIlvaine, U. M. Beck and T. C. Jones. Bigelow said yesterday that Verner would return to the city today. He also said his brother, Director E. M. Bigelow, was due here this morning or tomorrow.

Why Goehring Is Slated.

One of the reasons for slating Goehring is said to be the belief on the part of Bigelow that the Alleghenian will be able to pull George W. Guthrie and John B. Larkin back into the Citizens party. Goehring is also credited with having a big campaign fund behind him. The estimated cost of the fusion movement this fall is placed at $150,000.

The interview between Mayor Hays and Brennen Tuesday is supposed to have been one of the important factors in securing the surrender of Brennen. Hays is credited with having told Brennen that if he persisted in his candidacy, the Democrats holding city jobs would be removed.

By Bigelow allowing the Democrats to name the prothonotary, Charles Fetterman of Scott township and the Citizens Sixth Legislative District association are given a brick. Fetterman was indorsed for the prothonotaryship, but the Citizens bosses have never even given him honorable mention.

There was talk of the selection of Charles B. Payne, a Duquesne Democrat, for prothonotary. Brennen says that Payne is not likely to be named.

More Bank Assets Found.

NEW HOLLAND, O., Aug. 12.—John K. Brown, cashier of the Union Banking Company, who disappeared Monday last, has not been heard from. The investigating committee today found $107,000 in notes and bonds. This, with the real estate and other property, will run the assets up to near the liabilities. It is said Brown's shortage will not exceed $10,000.

SENATORS CALL AT OYSTER BAY

son of Illinois, who is to be the speaker of the next house, has shown a disposition to meet the senators half way. Mr. Cannon has been in the east ever since he paid a visit to the president in July. He has been the guest of Representative Sibley at Valcour, on Lake Champlain, and has been easily accessible for the purpose of interchange of views.

Mr. Cannon will give his support to a reasonable measure which supplies an emergency circulation, to furnish the funds in time of stringency for the movement of the crops. He is also supposed to be willing to favor a bill which will permit customs receipts to be deposited in the national banks.

Excursion to Twin Island.

President Roosevelt today paid a visit to the fresh-air branch of the Jacob Riis home at Twin Island. Mr. and Mrs. Riis came to Oyster Bay, where they joined a party the president had formed. They consisted of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, the children and Mrs. Emlen Roosevelt and her son Philip.

The party went to Twin Island on the Sylph. More than 40 children from the slums are enjoying a vacation there. They sleep in the large Hoyt mansion, which the president inspected, and when he took his leave they waved flags and cheered.

QUAY'S MAINE GUIDE SAW A MONSTER FISH

Claimed Reward Offered by Pennsylvania Senator for Largest Togue Caught in Moosehead Lake.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—A good story on Senator Quay has just floated down from the Maine woods. While down there on a fishing trip during June he had Charles Anance, a half-breed Indian, for a guide. During his stay a politician from Boston caught a togue or "laker" trout from Moosehead lake which weighed 32 pounds, this breaking all previous records. As soon as the senator heard of the big fish he offered his guide a large sum of money if he could find a togue that would equal or exceed that taken by the Massachusetts man.

"Pennsylvania is a bigger state than Massachusetts," said the senator, "and a Pennsylvania senator ought to be able to pull in a 50-pounder at least."

At sundown the senator was disgusted with his luck and asked the guide how he had fared.

"Yer good," he replied. "Ah'm bin goot, see togue so mooch big," stretching his hands apart to measure the distance. "He'en been weigh so mooch ez see 50 poun', but he'am bin geet orway, see tam ah'm was bin goin' pull he'em in."

"How do you know then, rascal, how much he weighed?"

"Alm bin see him weight by ze scales at bin on beem tan," replied the half-breed, and held out his hand for the reward.

ROOSEVELT CAN BE ELECTED WITHOUT THE EMPIRE STATE

the same electors, the three votes of that state will go to Roosevelt.

Maryland is also considered doubtful, although McKinley carried it in 1896 and in 1900. But last year the Democrats elected a governor and there is a fair element of doubt as to how the state will go next year. Nevada and Montana have been classed as doubtful, although some of the best political prophets say that Roosevelt's strength in the west will be sufficient to overcome the Democratic majorities in both these states. With free silver eliminated from the issues, Colorado is safely Republican, and Idaho likewise.

Thus, with the most liberal allowance for doubtful states, and conceding the solid south to the Democratic candidate, Roosevelt will have 269 electoral votes, or 30 more than enough.

Vote of Each State.

Under the reapportionment as a result of the census of 1900, there will be 476 votes in the electoral college next year, an increase of 29. It will require 239 to elect. The following is the number for each state: Alabama 11, Arkansas 9, California 10, Colorado 5, Connecticut 7, Delaware 3, Florida 5, Georgia 13, Idaho 3, Illinois 27, Indiana 15, Iowa 13, Kansas 10, Kentucky 13, Louisiana 9, Maine 6, Maryland 8, Massachusetts 16, Michigan 14, Minnesota 11, Mississippi 10, Missouri 18, Montana 3, Nebraska 8, Nevada 3, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 12, New York 39, North Carolina 12, North Dakota 4, Ohio 23, Oregon 4, Pennsylvania 34, Rhode Island 4, South Carolina 9, South Dakota 4, Tennessee 12, Texas 18, Utah 3, Vermont 4, Virginia 12, Washington 5, West Virginia 7, Wisconsin 13, Wyoming 3.

ROOFING PRODUCERS TERMINATE CONTRACT

Manufacturers Withdraw from American Sheet Steel Company.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WHEELING, Aug. 12.—The American Sheet Steel Company today was notified of the withdrawal in a body of the roofing manufacturers of the country from their contract with that branch of the Steel Corporation. Two years ago the manufacturers went into the agreement for their own protection, as the Sheet Steel Company had bought up practically all of the independents in the country, and there was no other way for the roofing manufacturers to secure their raw materials, consisting principally of black sheets.

The two principal stipulations in the contract was the sliding scale of prices, governed by the market price of black sheets, and an agreement releasing the roofing manufacturers from the contract on six months' notice. This notice was given just six months ago, and the time expired today.

LEECHBURG, PA., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Orders were received here and at Hyde Park last night by the managers of the American Sheet Steel Company to suspend all work until further notice. A number of the mills at Vandergrift were also shut down last night. Manager Linquest of the Leechburg mills, states he does not know the cause of the shutdown, and that it may be only for a few days or may continue for weeks.

MRS. DAN HANNA TO WED EDMUND K. STALLO SOON

Prospective Bridegroom Admits His Engagement, but Postpones the Date.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Mrs. May Harrington Hanna, who divorced Dan Hanna, son of United States Senator Hanna, and took her children to Europe in defiance of her husband and a court order, is about to become the wife of Edmund K. Stallo, son of Judge Stallo, minister to Rome during the Cleveland administration, and son-in-law of Alexander McDonald, the Standard oil magnate.

In view of the many exciting episodes in which she has been compelled to figure, it is the wish of Mrs. Hanna to have her marriage celebrated as quietly as possible. From Cincinnati, however, comes the statement that the wedding will be next week.

"We will not be married next week," said Mr. Stallo, when seen at the Waldorf-Astoria last night, "but the wedding will be soon. That is all I can say."

NO DIVIDEND ON COMMON STOCK

Pennsylvania Steel Company to Withhold Payment to Create a Surplus.

WANTS TEN MILLION DOLLARS

Chairman of Company Says This Concern, as Well as the Cambria Company, is in Satisfactory Condition, but a Contingency Fund Is Needed.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.

It is the intention of the Pennsylvania Steel Company management not to pay dividends on the common stock until a surplus of $10,000,000 has been secured.

The recent weakness of Pennsylvania Steel, preferred, and the decline in the price of Cambria Steel shares has led to considerable discussion about the merits of these securities. In speaking of the condition of both companies, E. R. Morris, president of the Girard Trust Company and chairman of both of the Pennsylvania and Cambria Steel Companies, said both companies are in a thoroughly satisfactory condition, with orders still unfilled upon their books for several months ahead. The results of the first six months of this year showed no diminution in profits and he declared that the policy of not dividing a greater amount in dividends than heretofore would be adhered to rigidly, notwithstanding the fact that the present rate of earnings might seemingly justify a higher dividend on Cambria, and on the Pennsylvania common stock.

Mr. Morris also said the owners of practically all this stock preferred to see the surplus earnings over the amount required to pay the 7 per cent dividends on the preferred stock, remain in the treasury, and be available for its requirements, thus strengthening the position of the preferred stock, a majority of which is owned by those who control the common. He was asked how long this policy of no dividends upon the common stock would be maintained, and replied that this would depend upon the course of the steel business in the future, but that he did not believe any dividends would be declared upon the common stock until the surplus of the treasury of the company reached $10,000,000.

Both companies, he said, have large ownerships in iron ore and by adhering strictly to the policy outlined above, they will continue to be well equipped for maintaining their present dividends.

When the officer interfered Calent turned on him. The assistance of Sergt. Freeborn was secured and Calent was finally landed in No. 7 police station. At the station house it was discovered that Sergt. Freeborn had broken a bone in his hand during the fracas.

FIFTH AVENUE

BIG GOSPEL TENT IS NOW A WRECK

Fire-Bugs Are Supposed to Have Burned the Rev. A. H. Claflin's Canvas.

TROUBLE IN A FORMER CHURCH

Firemen Prevent Spread of Conflagration in Allegheny and Congregation Decides to Replace Unique House of Worship—Work Will Be Continued.

The big gospel tent at Charlers street and Franklin avenue, Allegheny, in which the Rev. A. H. Claflin, pastor of the Gospel Mission church, has been holding services during the past three weeks, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock. The tent, a large number of chairs and some Bibles and song books, are a total loss. The damage will amount to about $300. It is supposed the fire was of incendiary origin.

Although there seems to be no clue as to who perpetrated the deed, it is said that some boys were in the tent less than an hour before it burned. The finding of a gasoline can from which the top had been removed, gives foundation to the theory that the tent was burned by design. This is all that Mr. Claflin will say about the origin of the fire, but there are some that hint that the pastor's enemies are responsible for the loss.

Two years ago Mr. Claflin was pastor of the First Congregational church, and at that time began holding open-air services on street corners or in open lots. This displeased some of the members of the congregation, and he was asked to discontinue the practice. He refused and his resignation was demanded. When Mr. Claflin left a large portion of the congregation followed, and he established the Gospel Mission church at Pennsylvania avenue and Chartiers street.

He has continued his open air services and held daily meetings in the tent. Considerable bitterness has been manifested against him. It is said, by some of his old congregation, and the manner in which the fire evidently started yesterday has given rise to the report that the conflagration was not planned by boys, although they may have been guilty of applying the light that started the blaze. Mr. Claflin said last night that he was going to investigate the matter thoroughly.

When the fire was discovered yesterday a still alarm was sent to No. 4 engine company and the firemen prevented the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings.

Mr. Claflin has been in the habit of holding a service on some street corner early in the evening, while his wife conducted a meeting for children in the tent. Later in the evening a general meeting was held under the canvass. The meeting was held last night in the church in Pennsylvania avenue. It was decided to replace the tent at once and to continue the services there during the entire summer.

TRAIN WENT INTO RIVER.

Runaway on a Grade Sends Five Cars and a Locomotive Over the Bank.

Five freight cars and an engine, on the latter the engineer and fireman, plunged over a 10-foot bank into the Allegheny river from the Junction railroad tracks at the foot of Thirty-fourth street last night. Fireman Frank Geavin had an ankle broken. Both he and the engineer jumped when they felt the first shock of a collision which caused the accident. The engineer, Michael Gibben, escaped entirely, but Geavin became entangled in the curtain on the engine and was thrown to the ground.

Several cars broke away from a freight train near Fortieth street and ran down the track toward Thirty-fourth street. Gibben's engine was shifting cars and as the runaway struck his "drag," threw them over the bank and into the river, carrying the engine along with them.

The runaway cars were without any attendants and the crew of the shifter all happened to be off the cars when the collision occurred.

WILL HOLD CONVENTION.

Philadelphia Republicans Want to Avoid Trouble Over Successor to Judge McCarthy.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—The leaders of the Republican party in this city today decided to call a special primary election and convention to nominate a candidate for the vacant place on the bench of common pleas court No. 3, to succeed the late Judge McCarthy, Democrat. The convention, it is said, will nominate Assistant District Attorney Robert von Moschzisker, who was recently nominated for the vacancy by the city committee.

The decision to call a convention was arrived at because of the appointment by Gov. Pennypacker of George Tucker Bispham to the vacancy. As some question has arisen as to the legality of the city committee's action in nominating Von Moschzisker, at the conference today it was decided to hold a convention and nominate a candidate in the regular way.

DIED IN MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL.

Another Death From Smallpox—Fighting Disease in the County.

Albert Wallace, 32 years old, of No. 3019 Penn avenue, died yesterday of smallpox at the Municipal hospital. He was admitted on August 2.

Four cases of the disease were reported yesterday: Eliza Slender, No. 2204 Webster avenue; Harry Kiffer, rear of No. 2909 Center avenue; Hugh Murphy, Homeopathic hospital; Edward Sands, No. 2733 Larkins alley.

The Allegheny county poor directors have given nominal bail in the smallpox suit brought against them by T. R. Higgins, school director of O'Hara township, and nothing is expected to be heard of the cases until the September term of court.

The Sharpsburg board of health yesterday morning established free vaccination in the town hall. Dodgers were distributed throughout the town announcing the fact that Dr. Charles Stanton has been employed. Quite a number of persons availed themselves of the opportunity yesterday.

Woman Used Hatchet on Boarder.

Mrs. Rosa Pasquali, a boarding house keeper at Wilmerding, last evening defended herself against the attack of a boarder with a hatchet. Dominic Donato started a quarrel at the supper table and slapped his boarding mistress several times in the face. Mrs. Pasquali grabbed a hatchet and struck him on the head and right arm, inflicting two deep gashes. Both were arrested and placed in the lockup on charges of felonious assault and battery.

Bold Robbery in Homestead.

A bold robbery took place in Homestead shortly after noon, yesterday, when the front door of Mark Sichel's jewelry store in Dickson street was jimmied open during the absence of the proprietor and jewelry valued at $100 taken.

Called to Pittsburgh Church.

The Rev. E. C. Lane, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Amity, Washington county, has received a call to the pastorate of the Mt. Washington Methodist Episcopal church, and will probably accept.

Chose Death Rather Than Trial.

MARSHALLTOWN, IA., Aug. 12.—Isaac Markley, a wealthy farmer, charged with the murder of his wife, and out on $10,000 bail, committed suicide today by hanging.

RIVERVIEW PARK TO BE BEAUTIFIED

Director McIlvain Will Ask Allegheny Councils for Not Less Than $100,000.

PREPARING AN OBJECT LESSON

City Fathers to Be Shown That the Public Appreciates Sylvan Scenes and Sweet Strains—The North Side's Poor Water Supply Is in Danger.

Allegheny councils are to be asked to pass an ordinance authorizing a bond issue to beautify Riverview park, and improve it so that it will compare favorably with Schenley and Highland parks of this city. For some weeks Director McIlvain of the department of public works, has been asking members of councils what chances such an ordinance would have. He feels certain that the majority of both branches would favor this expenditure, and he will have the ordinance put into the select branch at its next meeting.

Some common councilmen were skeptical regarding the popularity of Riverview park. Some objected to spending money on a park that, they said, was taken small advantage of by the people. These, Director McIlvaine says, are the ones who never go to the park and know nothing of the crowds that make it a play ground and place of recreation.

McIlwain's Object Lesson.

Just to show the doubting ones that thousands can be drawn to the park any night in the week, McIlvain has planned a concert late this month. A chorus of over 100 voices will take part in one of the Friday night concerts. The singers are part of the chorus of 200 of the German Allen society, that will meet in Allegheny on August 20 for a three-day session. At the picnic to be given under the auspices of the German Turners of Allegheny at Ross grove, August 20, the entire chorus will appear. Director McIlvain hopes to get the 200 singers, but yesterday that he had the assurance of only 100. The members of both branches of council will be invited to attend the concert in Riverview, and the size of the attending crowd, he says, will clinch his argument that the park is well patronized.

There is some doubt yet as to how much will be asked for in the proposed bond issue, but it will not be less than $100,000. With this, Director McIlvain says he can make the citizens of Allegheny proud of a park that is already beautiful. Several shelter houses, an addition to the 200, enlarged driveways, and English hedges set along the drives, are the objects on which the director means to spend some money.

Other Improvements Proposed.

Other improvements about the city are to be asked for by McIlvain, and already he has prepared an ordinance that is to be put into councils next month. This measure asks for the raising of the stone wall along Stockton avenue from Federal street to Sherman avenue, and for the construction of 125 feet of stone wall from Sherman avenue to connect with the wall recently built through the park by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The raising of the wall along Stockton avenue to a level with the curb, which is three feet higher, was asked for by McIlvain from the railroad company, but a letter from the company officials yesterday informed McIlvain that they would not make the improvement.

"If I could persuade councils to give us the money," said Director McIlvain yesterday, "I would have built at once a new water basin and a new pipe line from Montrose. The water of Allegheny is actually filthy. It is worse than Pittsburg water, and that is pretty bad. Why we do not have more typhoid fever in Allegheny is something I do not understand. I suppose that our people have been drinking filthy water for so long that the system of the average person has become germ proof.

Typhoid Due to Bad Water.

"But typhoid fever claims its victims over on this side of the river everyday, and there is nothing to blame but the water. We have only one basin, the one on Troy Hill, and it has not been cleaned for years. We can't clean it, for if we were to empty it the city water supply would be shut off.

"Suppose the pipe line between Allegheny and Montrose were to break. The city would be left without water entirely, for it is the only line bringing water from the intakes at Montrose to the pumping stations in the Eighth ward. Our councilmen are beginning to realize that something must be done toward giving the city pure water, and the quicker they take some steps in this direction the better it will be for the health of our people."

CONSTABLE ARRESTED.

Charged With Getting $20 from a Slav by Making False Statements.

Constable John Hohman of Alderman Bolster's office in Allegheny, was arrested yesterday, and furnished $500 bail for a hearing before Magistrate Samuel Abernathey. Hohman is charged with obtaining money under false pretense by John Ludwichak, a Slav, who alleges that on Tuesday Hohman and another man got $20 from him by representing to him that he was under arrest and must furnish this amount pending a hearing before Alderman Humphrey Lynch.

When Hohman was taken to Central station last night he declared that a man representing himself as a constable from Alderman Lynch's office had called on him Tuesday and requested him to locate Ludwichak. Together they found the man and the strange man got the $20. Ludwichak declares that Hohman did all the talking at the meeting and took the money.

Hohman is the oldest constable, in point of service, in Allegheny and has always been considered honest.

HONEYMOON TRIP WAS RUDELY INTERRUPTED

Samuel Golden of the First Ward Wanted a Pair of $500 Diamonds Back After a Young Woman Married a New Yorker.

"I want my diamonds back," seems to have been the principal motif for the actions of Samuel Golden of the First ward when he proceeded to have Mrs. Eva Berlin, a bride of two days, committed to jail last night on a charge of larceny by bailee, the information being made before Alderman Toole. Mrs. Berlin is a pretty German woman and came to this country about six months ago. Shortly after her arrival here she was paid some attention by Golden. The latter presented her with a pair of diamond earrings, valued, so he says, at $500.

During her acquaintanceship with Golden the girl met Dr. Berlin of New York city, who came to Pittsburgh on a visit. It was a case of love at first sight and the two were married last Monday. Golden was angered at being jilted, but more so on account of the girl not sending the diamonds back. Mrs. Berlin was still wearing the diamonds when she was committed to jail. The hearing in the case will be held this morning.

After her arrest a strenuous effort was made to obtain bail for her, and after jewelry of great value was offered by her sister and refused by the alderman the husband succeeded in obtaining a bondsman, but at an hour too late to effect her release.

Mrs. Berlin admits that she was given the diamonds by Golden, but she adds that she has since paid him $100 on account. She also says that Golden made a proposition to her which prompted her to put an end to their friendship.

TENT WORK IS SUCCESSFUL.

Pittsburgh Presbytery's Summer Campaign Results in Hundreds of Conversions.

The summer campaign of the Pittsburgh presbytery, which is being carried on under the leadership of the Rev. A. H. Kaylor, is encouraging to those in charge. Since the establishing of the four tents in this city, on July 12, 750 persons have made professions of conversion. The tent meetings will be carried on until the last of September, as $1,600 to do this work has been raised.

Another feature of the campaign different from the usual methods, is that of going about the city in a carriage and stopping a short time at the principal corners. Each place talent is assisting Mr. Kaylor. He said yesterday that 30,000 people had heard the gospel in this manner. Out of that number 700 had expressed a desire to live better lives and asked for prayers. Leon Prevost, cornetist, and Miss Mary R. Robinson, soprano, accompany Mr. Kaylor on these trips. A better class of people is reached in this manner than is otherwise possible during the hot months.

D. L. L. Sibey of Gettysburg will arrive Saturday to assist Mr. Kaylor. The Rev. Ralph Atkinson will then return to his work in Chicago. The tent in Hazelwood was moved yesterday from Renova street to Flowers and Second avenues. The other tents are at Woods Run, near Brighton road; Hollywood place and Arlington Heights.

Made a Good Auto Run to Wooster.

Arthur Basker and wife and George Price and wife of the East End, made a good run from Pittsburgh to Wooster, O., last Tuesday, in an automobile. The distance traveled was 145 miles. The start was made at 7:30 o'clock, an hour was spent in Beaver Falls, an hour for dinner at Salem, O., and a dozen or more brief stops were made on encountering horses that frightened at the autocar. The machine reached Wooster at 5:30 p. m.

RUPTURE

DR. GEO. B. WIX.

The discoverer of the Electro-Chemic Method.

Throw Your Trusses Away.

Men, Women and Children Cured in 30 to 60 Days

I have proved with astonishing cures that my Electro-Chemic Method is the only treatment that has never failed to cure Rupture—that I have positively the only PAINLESS procedure which can be relied upon to cure every form of Rupture in man, woman or child. No authority would concede until recently that there was any cure for Rupture except the dangerous painful cutting operation. I have made new history by curing quickly and permanently cases in which even the old-time surgical operation failed.

A truss won't cure you—the REST it was ever known to do was to hold a rupture in place. By my method I cure Rupture without cutting, pain, danger and without interfering with your daily duties. Come for free examination and advice.

GEO. B. WIX, M. D. FEB. 2, 1903.

DEAR DOCTOR—I wish to testify to the efficiency of your Electro Chemic Method for curing Rupture. I suffered with Rupture for about two years. Trusses did me no good. I took your treatment and for more than a year I have neither seen nor felt anything of the Rupture, notwithstanding the fact that my work is very heavy—being employed constantly at a sawmill. I cheerfully recommend my self all who are ruptured to take your Electro-Chemic treatment, for I know it will cure. Yours truly,

J. E. WEAVER, Lisbon, Ohio.

PILES AND FISTULA—

Besides unfolding a most remarkable cure for Rupture My Electro-Chemic Method contributes positively the only treatment that will effect a permanent, positive, painless cure for all Rectal Disorders.

ENTIRELY CURED OF PILES AFTER HAVING SUFFERED 15 YEARS:

I suffered constantly with the piles for 15 years, during part of which time I was unable to work. I tried salves of every kind without relief. Finally I succeeded to try Dr. Geo. B. Wix's treatment, and in a remarkably short time was completely cured. I can do any kind of work and feel that I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Wix's method and its success. ROBT. E. Thursday, August 13, 1903.

The local Democratic party organization is kept in a cage and occasionally shows some signs of desiring to regain its liberty of action. Its keepers endeavor to appease it by pointing out how much better fed it is than when it looked out for itself, and that this ought to make it content. It is a queer situation and the longer it lasts the more painful will be the discovery that while the party was gaining fat in confinement it was losing strength and energy.

It is figured out in Washington that President Roosevelt can carry the country for reelection without the electoral votes of New York. Of course he can. But he can carry the country including New York, which is more to the point. There is small present prospect that the Democrats will be able to carry anything outside the solid south, where the voting is merely perfunctory. President Roosevelt's margin will be several states to spare, so that no one state can claim the honor of electing the next president. Pennsylvania, of course, will get the credit of giving him the largest majority.

By the acquisition of the Seaboard Air line the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific plunges into the first class of trunk lines, and invades the territory of the eastern roads. Its move is quite as sensational as that of the Wabash and is probably as disturbing to the "community" of interests, though it does not gridiron as rich a freight producing territory. But whether the Rock Island leap to the Atlantic coast is approved or disapproved by the eastern trunk lines it ought to be a good thing for the country. It will simplify the transportation problem for a large section of the country and under wise management will stimulate development of resources.

Disclosures made at the hearing in the case of the De Crist woman, who was flogged in the Georgia penitentiary at Milledgeville, are of the most shocking character. If the testimony already adduced be true Prison-keeper Allagood is a monster in human form, for whom there is no adequate punishment provided in the state of Georgia or elsewhere. A long term in the prison he has misspent, with frequent applications of the knout according to his own idea of the proper way to treat convicts, would nearly suffice for legal vengeance, but if could not wipe from Georgia the stain of dishonor he and his kind have put upon it. The nature of the evidence against him is revolting in the extreme and the details almost beyond belief.

Dr. Dorsey, charged with inciting the sun dance, makes retort in a way to broaden the question. He denies that he induced the Indians to begin the orgy and alleges the Indian agent had personal and selfish motives in making the charges. But, Dr. Dorsey continues, if all that is waived there is a sufficient defense for himself and his scientific associates in the fact that the sun dance is a part of the religious observances of the Indians, and that the Constitution prohibits interference with any worship according to the dictates of conscience. This looks like a complete defense, but Dr. Dorsey for his own credit had better rely upon denial of complicity in bringing about any such cruel religious ceremonies as the sun dance.

Fighting in Macedonia seems to be mainly confined to the Monastir district, in the western part of Macedonia, nearer to Servia than Bulgaria, although distant from either. The insurrection is reported to be spreading into Salonica, which is contiguous to Southern Bulgaria, the former province of Roumelia. There are indications that the Mohammedan population of the Uskub district, contiguous to Southwestern Bulgaria, are about to rise, and this would mean massacres of Christians that would inflame Bulgarian national sentiment. The revolutionists are inviting just such outbreaks by massacres of Moslem peasants, and are doing everything in their power to spread a campaign of massacre, incendiarism and pillage. The chances for restoring order through diplomatic efforts have about disappeared.

The police board certainly needs to take such action as will communicate to the police force some sense of discipline and respect for authority. They are at present a queer lot, containing much good material with a sprinkling of raw lads, and even old Uncle Neds, who seem curiously out of place in police uniform. A good many police appointments have evidently been given out as presents to ward workers, so that the political pull conflicts with the development of the ideas of subordination essential to discipline. If the ward worker in police uniform is reported for neglect of duty he considers it a mean trick to play on a good party man and resents it accordingly. This state of feeling is at the bottom of the fights that have been taking place. The police force is constituted on the basis of political patronage, with a party worker at its head, who deems it consistent with his office to act as a city council quorum breaker. It will not become really a police force and brought under proper discipline until it is taken out of politics.

Secretary Root's Resignation.

The resignation of Secretary Root removes from the cabinet a strong and able man, and is a great loss to the government, but it was not to be expected that the ordinary routine of duty in that office would retain the services of a man who was rendering them at great pecuniary sacrifice. The salary of a cabinet minister is so inadequate to the expenses inseparable from the position that no one can afford to hold the office unless he has a private fortune. Secretary Root has accomplished what he set out to do. Entering the office when it was in a demoralized condition he has accomplished a thorough reorganization of the military service, both of the regular army and the national guard. His administration has been made memorable by the establishment of the general staff, and the introduction of such conditions in army administration that the confusion and incompetency which have marked the beginning of every conflict in which the country has engaged can hardly occur again. Secretary Root has achieved for himself a great place in our history. Having done his work and made his mark it is only natural that he should desire to return to his law practice and to the service of the interests of his own family.

Stories that disagreements with President Roosevelt had anything to do with his determination may be dismissed as sensational inventions. The two men were too strongly united by mutual admiration and respect, and too much in sympathy in their general views of public policy for any disagreements on points of detail to have caused a rupture. The strongest exponent of President Roosevelt's policy as regards the constitutional questions raised by the Spanish war was Secretary Root. The discussion of those questions in Secretary Root's reports are a mine of learning and logic, correctly anticipating the decisions since rendered by the supreme court, and doubtless contributed much to influencing both legal opinion and public opinion in general.

Secretary Root remains for a time in the public service as a member of the Alaskan boundary tribunal, but it is understood that his career in the war office is ended and his resignation is in the hands of the president to take effect when desired. It is stated that Gov. Taft will succeed him, a choice in every way a good one, and particularly advantageous, as it will put the department and the cabinet in sympathetic relations with the administration of the Philippines, a task in which American precedents afford little help and are often misleading.

A Hasty Bombardment.

The incident between the Silver Spray and the Petrel on Lake Erie may prove serious. It cannot be assumed without investigation that the Canadian revenue cutter had no justification for its attack. In fact, Capt. Chau of the Silver Spray admits he was over the boundary in Canadian waters, but avers he was only looking for his nets that had drifted. But in any case the attack appears to have been unduly vicious and according to the American captain's story was made with undue haste.

We doubt not there is poaching on Lake Erie. When the fishing is bad on one side of an imaginary line and good on the other it is in the nature of a fisherman to cross the boundary. In this matter it is likely the Canadian fishermen offend as often as those from the states. It is a part of the duty of the revenue cutters of both countries to warn these trespassers off the forbidden premises. They are not, however, bound in duty to go about it as though Canada and the United States were at war, and we believe the Americans have been in the habit of giving Canadian fishermen the benefit of the doubt when found near the line.

There will be no war over the Lake Erie fisheries. That is certain. But there is a possibility of some sharp diplomatic correspondence. First of all, though, it will be necessary to ascertain the exact facts.

The Sunday Laws.

An effort will doubtless be made at the next meeting of the legislature to secure the enactment of some measure modifying what are known as the Sunday blue laws. In various parts of the state there are struggles over the interpretation of those laws. Naturally the one which attracts most attention in this section is the conflict at Wilkinsburg over the sale of ice cream and soda water, in which the law is being invoked on both sides for purposes of persecution. A similar contest is going on at Norristown over Sunday amusements. In Lancaster county a local committee of Sunday enforcement is endeavoring to stop Sunday work on the Pennsylvania's new low grade railroad, which the contractor declares is a work of necessity. A great deal of Sunday work goes on in mills and on railroads. The spasmodic attempts which from time to time are made to give a stringent enforcement to the laws are, as a rule, aimed at popular recreation and refreshment on Sunday, but those assailed will not allow the movement to stop short with them, and take measures to see that prosecutions are general. Sometimes those making themselves conspicuous in enforcing the law against light refreshments are themselves engaged in enterprises involving Sunday work, the only necessity for which arises from the fact that shutting down on Sunday would be troublesome and expensive.

The supreme court of the state in sustaining the existing law has heretofore given a strong intimation that the exercise of common sense in regard to its enforcement would be advisable. The law, however, admits a latitude of interpretation which the courts would do well to limit. The law exempts "works of necessity and charity." Here is a proviso by means of which prudent judicial interpretation could bring the statute into accord with the necessities of modern life. Unless narrowly construed the statute of 1794 is not so illiberal as it is made out to be. It is expressly provided that "nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the dressing of victuals in private families, bake houses, lodging houses, inns or other houses of entertainment for the use of sojourners, travelers or strangers," and it has been decided by the supreme court that this covers the sale of ice cream by a licensed inn keeper. By reasonable construction it could be made to cover the sale of soda water and ice cream by drug stores, which in the economy of modern life have become all around bureaus of public comfort and houses of entertainment. It is a degradation of jurisprudence when the law is left in such a shape as to become an instrument of persecution, abridging opportunities of innocent, popular recreation and refreshment on the weekly day of rest. Either by enlightened and humane judicial construction, or by statutory amendment the law should be cleared of its present defects.

First for Roosevelt.

Pennsylvania was the first state to indorse Roosevelt for election to the presidency in 1904 and the Eleventh congressional district of Pennsylvania is the first in the United States to elect delegates to the Republican national convention of next year and instruct them to vote for the nomination of Roosevelt. Pennsylvania is at the head of the political procession, as well as first in a number of other ways. This state has a larger number of Republicans in congress than any other commonwealth, and its Republican majority heads the column in the presidential election table. Pennsylvania produces more iron and steel and coal and coke than any other state in the union, and it has agricultural regions that excel the garden spots of the agricultural west. It sets the pace in the arts of peace and at the call to arms and points the way of prosperity in industry, in politics and in statesmanship. It is first in progress and first in patriotism and first for Roosevelt, whose name stands for patriotism and progress. It was Pennsylvania influence that made Roosevelt vice president of the United States in spite of himself, and while the United States is debtor to Pennsylvania for many things there is nothing in recent history for which it owes Pennsylvania a larger measure of gratitude than for the generalship which conquered Roosevelt and the influences which worked against Roosevelt in the national convention of 1900 at Philadelphia. The national appreciation of that achievement is shown in the general approval of Roosevelt's course as McKinley's successor, and is manifested in the unanimous acceptance of him by Republicans for election to the place to which he was called by a decree stronger than the voice of the people. It was Pennsylvania that placed Roosevelt where a strong man was needed in the hour of the nation's grief, and in the path of duty he has vindicated the wisdom of the political leaders of this commonwealth by the strength and dominating purpose with which he has met and mastered every situation in behalf of the people. It is fitting, therefore, that Pennsylvania, which gave Roosevelt to the nation in 1900, should be first for Roosevelt now for nomination and election in 1904.

Another Bad Water Town.

Director of Public Works McIlvain of Allegheny is pleading for another water main from Montrose pumping station and another reservoir. He says the old Troy hill basin is dirty, has not been cleaned for years and cannot be cleaned because there is no other to hold water for consumption during the cleaning process. A new pipe line is needed, because if the one in use should break the city would suffer before repairs could be made. There is much reason in the director's plea, though metering the service would reduce the necessary size and cost of the additional reservoir. The use of a second basin would enable the delivery to consumers of cleaner water.

A better remedy would be the annexation of Allegheny to Pittsburgh and connection of the two water systems. This would give a sufficient number of basins and a break in one pumping main would be made good by temporary supply through the other. Both sides of the river could be better served and with economy enforced by meters the pumping capacity would be far beyond daily demands.

The Allegheny water supply carries more silt than that of Pittsburgh, but less organic matter. Whether the latter fact is due to the Allegheny infiltration gallery, or to taking water farther up the river it is difficult to say. At any rate Allegheny has a somewhat lower typhoid fever rate than Pittsburgh, though the Allegheny rate is appalling. The two cities should have all of their water sand filtered and they should become one city to have that done. Both are paying a terrible penalty for neglect of most important sanitary precautions and both have suffered almost equally from political incompetence. They ought to be giving their attention to a new and better order of things.

Of course it isn't true, but were the statement published in New York true that the slump in Wall street was intended as a rebuke to the presidential determination to bring all corporations under the eye and control of the law, it would help to prove that the determination had been reached none too soon.

Last week Chautauqua was told that there were things to be said for saloonkeepers and red liquor, and this week it has been informed that lynching has its proper place. All of which explains why Chautauquas get along without wraps and overcoats in spite of the coolest August in many years.

"I do not care whom the Democrats nominate for president in 1904," declared Adlai Stevenson to the Chicago reporters. Thus Adlai gets in line with majority sentiment, regardless of what he may do with his vote.

If the president had accompanied Gen. Miles' retirement with a burst of laudation the papers which are now condemning him for not doing it would have indicted him for hypocrisy, and there you are!

After a while Wall street will take the other side and refuse to consider it a sign that the country is going to the bow-wows when corporations seek money for extensions and improvements.

It is a Fayette county man who reports a growth of potatoes as large as watermelons, and upward of a score to each hill. Now, Parkersburg, W. Va.?

The declarations of the governor of Georgia against lynching came just in time to shelter the fellow whose pastime is flogging white women.

It may be true, as Police Superintendent McAuliffe declares that the whole world is a joke, but has he heard about the man who laughs last?

The Democratic boom for Miles for commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. has been called off by the general. One more closed incident.

If those southern governors who indorse the president's anti-lynching letter don't look out Tillman will refuse to associate with them.

Mayor Simmons' enthusiasm over the prospects of Alaska will probably communicate itself to the toy mission in December.

Wall street is discovering that it hasn't rattled either the captains of industry or their armies.

Of course there is a Macedonian cry for help, and the Macedonians are answering it themselves.

The prudent man will not kick stocks when they are down—at least he will not kick them hard.

Naturally, Mr. Brennen will receive such sympathy as he is entitled to.

The uprising in Macedonia is ahead of schedule time, and moving swiftly.

Alagood is very bad, unless he is grossly misrepresented.

However it isn't the governors who do the lynching.

The mercury is keeping down with the stock market.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Kataoka Kenkichi of Tokio, Japan, president of the lower house of the Japanese parliament, is a devout Christian and holds meetings in his house, where the principles of Christianity are explained.

During their Irish visit King Edward and Queen Alexandra took with them trunks and other luggage weighing in all about 200 tons. Among these were two large chests of gold plate.

Samuel M. Shaw, at the age of 80, has retired from the editorial management of the Freeman's Journal, a weekly paper of Cooperstown, N. Y., after 52 years in that position. In all that time he was only once away from his office for a longer period than 10 days.

Commander Peary, the arctic explorer, is anxious to make another attempt to reach the north pole. He says he is convinced the pole will be reached in the near future, and if the United States is not watchful some other nation will capture this last great geographical prize. He says also that the pole can be reached by the Grand Land route for $150,000.

Judge Robert B. Richardson of Monrovia, Liberia, an associate justice of the supreme court of Liberia and president of Liberia college, is on an extended visit to the United States, studying educational methods. He has been in Washington for several days, and will remain in the United States about five weeks longer, spending most of the time in New York and Boston. He has accepted invitations to deliver several lectures.

Jury Packing in Kentucky.

Caleb Powers, the former Republican secretary of state in Kentucky, may or may not be guilty of complicity in the murder of Goebel, a crime of which he has twice been convicted by a court whose verdict has twice been overruled and reversed by the state court of appeals on the ground that its action was illegal and unjust. But the fact that the panel of jurors which was drawn to try him for the third time is said to have consisted of ninety-three Democrats and only two Republicans, while the trial jury as actually constituted contains a single Republican and eleven Democrats, does not inspire confidence in the fairness of the present proceedings. The two political parties are pretty nearly evenly divided in the Blue Grass commonwealth. A panel of jurors selected without partisan considerations would be likely to have about as many Republicans as Democrats. Certainly there is no section of the state in which such a disparity as that noted in the Powers jury could be anticipated from natural causes.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Labor's Share in the Profits.

According to the editor of the Railway News, the payrolls of the railroad companies of the United States have been increased during the past 12 months by the sum of $100,000,000. Of this amount probably $50,000,000 is accounted for by the enlargement of the working forces which was required by the natural growth of the business of the country; the balance, however, represents the increase of pay secured by the conductors and trainmen through concerted action. That the workingmen of the country are getting a disproportionately greater share of the profits which their daily efforts help employers to earn cannot be denied in the face of this $50,000,000 knockdown argument.—Philadelphia Record.

Democratic Rebuke for Bryan.

The more evident it becomes that the Democratic party has thrown him and Populism upon the dump and gone about its business, the more violent and abusive Mr. Bryan grows. He is more vociferous than ever, and this shows that scarcely any hope of retaining his position remains with him. As his hopes go down his passion rises and his tocsin throws off all control.—Philadelphia Record.

INDIRECTION.

Fair are the flowers and children, but their subtle suggestion is fairer;
Rare is the roseburst of dawn, but the secret that clasps it is rarer;
Sweet the exultance of song, but the strain that precedes it is sweeter,
And never was poem yet writ, but the meaning outmastered the meter.

Never a daisy that grows, but a mystery guideth the growing;
Never a river that flows, but a majesty sweepers the flowing;
Never a Shakespeare that soared, but a stronger than he did enfold him;
Nor ever a prophet foretells but a mightier seer hath foretold him.

Back of the canvas that throbs, the painter is hinted and hidden;
Into the statue that breathes, the soul of the sculptor is bidden;
Under the joy that is felt lie the infinite issues of feeling;
Crowning the glory revealed is the glory that crowns the revealing.

Great are the symbols of being, but that which is symboled is greater;
Vast the create and beheld, but vaster the inward creator;
Back of the sound broods the silence, back of the gift stands the giving;
Back of the hand that receives thrill the sensitive nerves of receiving.

Space is as nothing to spirit, the deed is outdone by the doing;
The heart of the wooer is warm, but warmer the heart of the wooing;
And up from the pit where these shiver, and up from the heights where those shine,
Twin voices and shadows swim starward, and the essence of life is divine.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"All you that are able
Come down to the stable
And water your horses and give 'em some corn.
And if you don't do it
The colonel shall know it,
And you shall be punished the very next morn'."

That is what the bugle says to the cavalryman early in the morning.

And another bugle is saying something of the sort to each of us every morning, because we must needs see to it that our steeds are properly fed and groomed or we will be haled before the powers we serve, and to which we are accountable for our daily conduct.

Some say they cannot do the things they should do each and every day.

Neither can the soldier, but his commander will not take his say-so for it. He must get "an excuse" from the surgeon.

Nor will your say-so be accepted as an excuse for failing to be in line and completely accoutered and ready for any fray.

And more than that, you will be punished, just as the derelict trooper is punished "the very next morn'." Were it not so there would be no advantage in doing right, nor would there be any virtue in being good and useful.

Discipline—strict, exacting discipline—is absolutely necessary, not only in the army, but wherever men are required to work together for a single, or a common purpose. It is also absolutely necessary where complete, or reasonable harmony among individuals, or separate forces, is needed.

* * * * *

We talk about discipline of the mind. It is necessary in order that we may be able to command our minds, to direct our thoughts in the way they should go.

Of what use would an army be were the multitude of men not so disciplined and drilled that they could act as one man? This discipline comes by continually exercising the men in certain maneuvers so that all understand them alike, and can, at the command of the leader, perform them promptly and effectively.

The individual who can control all the faculties or particular parts of his mind, can exert a greater influence on others, effect more definite results and make deeper impressions on the mind, than he with keener but undisciplined faculties.

It is concentrated mental energy that makes the deep and lasting impression, just as it is the concentrated heat rays of the sun that burn deepest, or the concentrated light rays that shine brightest. These are so disciplined, so obedient to law and order that they may be readily controlled, and may always be relied upon most confidently.

The versatile and efficient man is a well-disciplined man—must needs be well disciplined, or he could not so command all his faculties as to render them highly useful. Our faculties must be taught obedience, and trained to work at our bidding, and work well and faithfully.

* * * * *

Speaking of versatile people, there was Henry Drummond, of whom you have sometimes heard, and whose writings you have read, for he was the author of two books that have been widely read and will be in demand for years to come—"Natural Laws in the Spiritual World," and "The Ascent of Man." Although his body is dead, Henry Drummond is very much alive today.

He was—it is his biographer who describes him—"a graceful, well-dressed gentleman, tall and lithe, with a swing in his walk and a brightness on his face, who seemed to carry no cares, and to know neither presumption nor timidity."

He was keen for any of a hundred interests. "He fished, he shot, he skated as few can, he played cricket; he would go any distance to see a fire or a football match. He had a new story, a new puzzle, or a new joke every time he met you."

If he was a guest at a country house and it was a rainy afternoon everybody was in the thick of it. One day, after a cricket match in which he had taken part, the day closed in dark and rainy, and he invented a game to amuse his three companions, one of whom became his biographer, the Rev. George Adam Smith, then a divinity student.

"They play it in America," said Drummond with bowie knives. Four men are locked in a dark room; each in a corner, and the survivor wins. We'll do without the knives; the door and the shutters shall be shut, each of us will stand in a corner, and the first who gets on another man's back will be the winner.

"I win, I think," writes Dr. Smith, "the most exciting game I ever played. Nobody arrived from his corner for 20 minutes. There I heard a scuffle between two of the others, felt my way to fling myself on both of them, when Drummond pounced on me, and we all rolled in a heap, he, of course, on the top—as he always was."

Younger men called Drummond "The Prince," because he was princely in his manners and behavior. There was no assumption of superiority, no patronizing air, and no effort to gain influence; but there was a something about the man that compelled the title. The Rev. John Watson—Ian Maclaren—who knew and loved him from his boyhood, declared, "What impressed me in the days of long ago I can now identify. It was the lad's distinction, an inherent quality of appearance and manner, of character and soul which marked him and made him solitary."

Until the end of his life Henry Drummond, although a lay-preacher, a professor in a college, a lecturer on science, an author whose books were read by hundreds of thousands, remained a boy, happy, whole-hearted, unspoiled, a lover of sport, full of fun, and able to look out on life from the level of a boy's eyes.

The man and his teaching were one. Mr. Moody, who knew religious people, said: "Some men make an occasional journey into First Corinthians xiii, but Henry Drummond was a man who lived there constantly. * * * No man has ever been with me for any length of time that I did not see something that was unlike Christ, and I often see it in myself, but not in Henry Drummond. All the time we were together he was a Christlike man and often a rebuke to me."

* * * * *

Happy are those who make others happy. Heaven is peopled with those who have learned how to be happy through making others happy here on earth.

Some are of the opinion that in order to be happy one must be born with a happy disposition, all of which is true enough, and it is also true that all children are born with a disposition to enjoy and appreciate kindnesses and pleasure. Therefore, all that is necessary in order to develop this into a happy disposition is to make life pleasant for them, and to teach them to be kind and generous. This being the natural trend of their nature the will take to it very kindly and never depart from it. We may safely conclude that Prof. Drummond was brought up in a home where he was allowed to romp and play in reason, and where the aim of the folks was to be congenial and appreciative. There are no signs of a spoiled child in him as far as his record is known.

The life of such a man has a telling effect in the community where he is known, even if it reaches around the world. You admire him because he is so well disposed, and so certain of his standing that he does not fear to act promptly and freely. As you know yourself, when you feel that you are right, and mean well, you speak and act more freely and candidly than when you are afraid that you may do something wrong.

The modern home may be as well suited to modern life as the old home was to its times, yet there seems to have been more hospitality, and more happiness and less selfishness. Maybe it was because people were more easily entertained and made happy.

Dear Quiet Observer: I was so interested in your column of Monday's issue that I cannot refrain from speaking my mind. Yes, I have often heard city people making fun of those coming from the country, especially on circus days. Have often heard the remark, "Do you see that country Jake eating ginger bread and reading the signs?" They ought to remember that most of our great and smart men came from the country. What would become of the people if it were not for the honest "tillers of the soil," who raise their daily bread?

And as for the old-time dances, they take me back to my girlhood days. Dancing was my favorite pastime, and I think, if rightly indulged in, it is one of the most genteel and graceful amusements that young people can engage in.

"Money Musk" was a favorite dance with me, and I can mention others, such as opera reel, the two sisters, Fisher's fete, the Sicilian, basket cotillion, cheat the lady, etc. They are all things of the past now, but memory still lingers, thank heaven!

AN INTERESTED READER.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—With the finding of another strangled man in the river New Yorkers are again impressed with the opinion that there are too many mysterious murders here, even for a metropolis. While it is not expected that the police will be able to unravel every tangle of crime which is spun from the thread of a great city's daily doings there is always more or less criticism when it is apparent that a dark deed has been committed and when the corpus delicti is in the hands of the authorities. The find today is that of a man of about 40 years of age, who must have been powerful of physique, but who had been put to death by a handkerchief which was thickly knotted about the neck. It may have been a drunken brawl, or the murdered man may have been the victim of robbers. That he was brutally put to death is evident from the conditions found. There does not seem to be any material difference in this respect between the case of the Italian who was a victim of the Mafia, and whose body was found stuffed into a barrel in a quiet street, and this unknown man who was throttled and thrown into the North river. Remarks to this effect are to be heard among thoughtful people tonight, and unless the police make a vigorous effort to find out who killed this man and show that they really are making the effort the feeling of insecurity as to personal safety which is all too general in Manhattan will be decidedly increased.

Grandeur of St. Patrick's.

St. Patrick's cathedral never looked more imposing and beautiful, both inside and out, than it did this morning, when the pallium sent from Rome was placed on the shoulders of Archbishop Farley. The edifice is a magnificent one and even at ordinary times its vastness makes the interior almost oppressive in its grandeur. This morning when high Catholic dignitaries from many other cities took part in the ceremonies the whole church was literally packed with priests and laymen until it seemed as if not one more person could have found room. It was an occasion to be remembered and doubtless it will be by all who were present.

Pittsburghers at Passaic.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scully of Wilkinsburg are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Greenman of Passaic, N. J. They have been in Passaic for a week and more and will spend the rest of this month with Mr. and Mrs. Greenman at Asbury Park.

Woman Wins a Victory.

It is generally understood in New York that Elihu Root would not have resigned his position as secretary of war but for the urgent entreaties of Mrs. Root. She did not want him to accept, in the first place, it is said. He had a good law practice in New York and was making money—money that he needed, for he was not and is not, a rich man. But pressure was brought to bear, as is generally known, and he gave way. Mrs. Root does not like Washington and does not enjoy being a cabinet lady. She has been for some time trying to persuade her husband to give up his heavy load of official honor, and it seems that she has gained her point, although it will be some months before there will be a new secretary of war to relieve her husband.

Beware of the Dog.

A new way to keep tramps away without being in perpetual danger of hydrophobia has been hit on by a commuter, who was gleefully telling about it in a quick lunch room today. He has a large, strong dog collar attached to a stout chain, fastened to his house in a conspicuous place. When a tramp begins to mosey up the garden path to hand out the usual bluff that he wants to cut the lawn, he spies the dog collar and—good-by. He infers that if the dog's neck is not in the collar, the dog must be loose, and as the size of the collar indicates a dog about as large as a mule he does not wait. The commuter says it is the best idea in its way he ever struck, and he does not have to feed a dog.

Doubtful About the Subway.

More interest in subway operations has been shown by idlers who stop to look down into the excavations than had been noticed for weeks before. If you talk to any of these thoughtful gazers into the deep hole which will be the rapid transit railway next summer, unless the schedule slips another cog, you will find they are all musing along the same lines. They are wondering whether it is really true that such a disaster as that in Paris would not be possible in the New York subway. It is a great question and comes right home to New Yorkers, as well as to the hundred thousand visitors who come to Manhattan every day and many of whom will doubtless ride in the subway.

Miss Hayden Makes Her Debut.

Marguerite Hayden, a daughter of W. R. Hayden, who was a well-known theatrical manager a few years ago, having a great many friends in Pittsburgh, made her theatrical debut this afternoon in "The Earl of Pawtucket." Miss Hayden is a society girl her father having left a large fortune, and she has a number of the Pittsburgh younger set in her circle of friends.

Rapid Transit Problem.

So much has been said about Broadway being in danger of further disturbance by the extension of the rapid transit subway that the crush at the Brooklyn bridge has been lost sight of to some extent. The people who have to fight their way to the cars there every evening have not forgotten it, however, and the question of relief is just as live as ever it was. The most hopeful suggestion is that the new Williamsburg bridge will be ready for use in about three months. That must relieve the pressure to some extent. Indeed, thoughtful Brooklynites do not expect that there ever will be a permanent relief except through the building of so many bridges over the East river that it will be impossible to crowd them all. Unfortunately, as the rate the population of Greater New York is increasing, it is not to be expected that bridge-building will keep pace with the demands upon them.

Health and Wealth.

The American business man of the present day spends his health to gain wealth, and then immediately starts out to spend his wealth in regaining his health. But generally he finds the first feat a child's play in comparison with the second.—Baltimore American.

The Subway.

The terrible railroad disaster which has thrown all Paris into mourning seems to have been the most destructive to human life of which there is any record. This deplorable loss of life is due to the exceptional conditions under which the catastrophe took place. Indeed, the circumstances were such that it is inexplicable how any managed to escape.

When a train crowded with people breaks down and catches fire in the middle of a tunnel from which the smoke has no adequate means of escape it might be supposed that the number of deaths would only be limited by the number of persons who had been caught in that dreadful trap. Yet it seems that there were some who managed to get away.

It is a surprising feature of the accident that it had been foreseen and yet had not been guarded against. The Paris fire department is reported to have warned the management of the Metropolitan Electric Railway Company 18 months ago that no sufficient provision had been made for the escape of smoke from its tunnels, and to have instructed it to put in air holes 100 yards apart the whole length of its route. Had it done so the mortality would have been nothing like as great, as most of those who lost their lives were the victims of suffocation. But if Paris is such a well governed city as we are always told, how did it happen that the fire department failed to insist upon compliance with its order? The truth is that human nature is about the same everywhere, and there is constantly a tendency to neglect which from time to time is productive of very sad results.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

\+ \+ \+ \+

The more carefully the facts are considered the stronger becomes the conviction that it was the company operating the road, and not the electricity, that was chiefly at fault. More details are needed before a perfect understanding of the case can be had, but there is an unfortunate resemblance between the cause of this accident and that in Liverpool nearly two years ago. On that occasion an antiquated motor, known to be out of repair and suspended with no intervening shield between it and the wooden floor above, took fire and the flames spread to the train. The form of motor used on the Paris Metropolitan cars is probably superior to the mischief maker in Liverpool, but it could not have been perfectly inclosed if it set fire to the train. The improvements which have taken place in the design of motors in the last few years, and in the arrangement of fuses, reduce to an exceedingly small minimum the risk of fire on cars provided therewith. It is not an extravagant statement to affirm that an accident like that in Paris is practically impossible in the New York subway. The best electrical equipment for railways today is distinctly superior to that of five or ten years ago.—New York Tribune.

With the feeling of pity and of profound sympathy with the people of Paris in the calamity that has fallen upon them every New Yorker naturally asks: How about our underground roads—are they liable to become the scene of a similar horror?

The statements made by officials of the company which is to operate the lines are reassuring in that precautions have been taken to guard against all accidents that can be foreseen. First in the list of dangers in underground transit is that from fire, and those responsible for our subway have had timely warning of this. The statements of officials show that thought has been given to the subject, and that, while the cars under construction are not absolutely fireproof, they are of substances that seem to insure slow combustion in case of fire, and that such a whelming disaster as that in Paris would be impossible.

Nevertheless, the public will have misgivings about the quantity of wood employed in their construction and for inside trimmings, and will have doubts—possibly ill founded—as to the efficency of the "fireproof paint" to prevent timbers from igniting. With the heartrending tragedy of Monday night before their eyes the rapid transit commissioners and the officials of the Interborough company should scrutinize anew the construction of their cars and of all their fittings, that they may be made not relatively but absolutely non-combustible, and make it impossible for the people of New York ever to experience the horror that has fallen upon those of the erstwhile gay capital.—New York Herald.

It is far from our purpose to indorse the gloomy forebodings of Mr. Sage or to create a popular distrust in the method of transit which beyond all doubt is the best that could be devised for New York city, and which certainly will come into favor with the vast majority of its travelling population. Yet the Paris subway horror is of fascinating interest to our people and of supreme importance to our tunnel builders in the present moment, when our first underground experiment is about to be applied and when tubes are being driven below our waters toward Brooklyn and Jersey City. That the tragic experience of Paris will be of value to the constructors of our tunnels we earnestly hope. That it will give a great shock to the confidence of the people of the French capital in the security of that mode of transportation seems likely. We do not wish to see the faith of New Yorkers in their only hope of salvation from the troublesome transit problem shattered in such a manner that, or shaken to the least degree by a modification of the Metropolitan electric disaster.

We do hope that our engineers will not wait to learn from an experience of their own at home the supreme importance of insuring timpot travel in every possible way against the occurrence of any accident that will cause people to pause at the top of the subway stairs to count the chances of reaching the end of their journey alive.—New York Press.

Giving in Spain.

I wish we Americans would adopt the Spanish style of giving. There are occasions when a host, warmed to the cockles of his heart by the congeniality and personal magnetism of a guest, will give to him whatever he particularly admires among the household gods. In Spanish-speaking, Spanish-conquered, Spanish-lost countries this giving is understood to be a sort of compliment with a string tied to it. The guest—"Ah! What a lovely porcelain! I have never seen its equal. Some rare work of the middle ages. Do you like it?" says the pleased host. "It is yours." They shake hands, slap each other on the shoulder and renew old friendship. But the host knows that the present will never leave his house, and the guest understands that the gift is not his except in the meaning.—New York Press.

A Friendly Hint.

There is one supreme debt that Mr. Bryan owes to the Democratic party and which he should be generous and humble enough to pay in full. He should either talk sense when he talks politics—or quiet down and

SUDDEN TURN IN BLUE LAW WAR

Auditor General Issues Orders for Prompt Collection of Fines.

TROUBLE FOR KENNYWOOD

Church People Will Have Officers Arrest All Park Employes in Disguise. Sunday Law Prosecutions in Homestead—Thirteen Druggists Defendants.

The blue law situation in Wilkinsburg took a new turn yesterday when it became noised about that Auditor General E. B. Hardenbergh, through the local law firm of Stone & Stone, had served notice that fines imposed in the blue law suits were not to be remitted, but that every penny must be accounted for to the state, or the aldermen and justices of the peace would be held responsible.

Justice of the Peace J. J. Walker yesterday informed W. L. Smith, one of the druggists, that he had received formal notice and he will make every effort in his power to collect. This stand is apt to be taken by all the aldermen and justices of the peace who have remitted fines imposed in carrying out the blue laws.

Informations were made yesterday afternoon by a representative of the committee of five before Justice Walker, against A. Wright, a caterer; J. A. Linton, an oiler for the Penn Ice Company; J. H. Kunkle, a fireman; John Marsh, an engineer, and Howard Grubbs, electrician for the Allegheny County Light Company, charging them with violations of the Sunday laws. Second informations were also made against J. C. Cawley, W. L. Smith and S. W. Covell, on the same charge.

Informations were made against the latter three, who are druggists in Wilkinsburg, on Monday morning by the committee of five, charging them with selling soda water and ice cream the day previous. Hearings in these three cases were held before Justice Walker last night, and all three were fined $25 and costs each. Why the second informations were made against them is a question which is now agitating the minds of those who are opposing the crusade, and Justice Walker volunteered no information.

A new move the church people of Homestead have adopted to suppress Sunday amusements at Kennywood park is to have officers go to the park next Sunday and arrest all employes found wearing disguises, as it is claimed it is unlawful to appear in public in disguise.

For the past two Sundays the management of Kennywood park has had its employes on the grounds disguised in grotesque ways. As no informations can be made on Sunday, the church people were unable to pick out the offenders when they visited the park the next day.

The Sunday observance crusade has extended to Homestead, and yesterday 13 informations against druggists and other merchants of that borough were made before Justice J. Clyde Miller by A. D. Crisswell, said to be from Pittsburgh. Whom he represents is not known, but the management of Kennywood park is blamed. No time for the hearings has been set.

MASSACHUSETTS STRUCK A LEDGE IN BAR HARBOR

Big Battleship Badly Damaged While Proceeding to Long Island Sound.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 12.—While leaving the harbor during a thick fog about noon today, in company with other vessels of the North Atlantic squadron, the battleship Massachusetts struck on a ledge of rocks. The big vessel slipped into deep water, but the several plates forward were cracked.

The Massachusetts was headed back into the harbor with considerable difficulty, accompanied by the Indiana and Scorpion. She will remain here until Captain Memminger, her commander, receives orders from Washington.

The squadron, under the command of Rear Admiral Barker, got under way shortly before noon today for Long Island, where they will be tactical exercises previous to an inspection and review next Monday by President Roosevelt, Secretary Moody and Admiral Dewey.

It is believed that the accident was due to a miscalculation of the Massachusetts' navigating officer. When the battleship struck she was going at the rate of about nine and a half knots, and, although she was drawing 26 feet of water and there was less than 25 feet on the ledge, her progress was but little retarded. Her officers stated tonight that if she had been 50 feet to the westward she would have cleared the ledge.

MISSED THE STEP; FELL UNDER CAR

John C. McClintock of the East End Killed While Attempting to Transfer.

WIFE AND SON OVERCOME

Dead Man Was Well Known in the Oil Country, as Well as in Pittsburgh. Friend of Coal Oil Johnny—Other Deaths from Violence.

John C. McClintock of No. 816 North Euclid avenue, was killed almost instantly by falling under a trailer of a street car at Penn and Highland avenue last evening at 6.15 o'clock. Mr. McClintock and his son, Albert L., were returning home to supper from their place of business in Frankstown avenue. They procured transfers. When they reached Penn and Highland avenues a South Highland avenue car was just crossing Penn avenue, northbound.

Mr. McClintock attempted to board the South Highland avenue car, which was moving. The Highland avenue cars stop on the south side of the street and this car was moving slowly over the switches. He grasped the hand rail at the back of the car, but his foot slipped when he attempted to get on the running board. He fell directly in front of the trailer, which passed over his chest, crushing out his life almost instantly.

The railways company's emergency wagon was called and the body removed to the East End hospital and later to Moreland's undertaking rooms in Penn avenue.

Wife and Son Prostrated.

Albert L. McClintock, who is 25 years old, saw his father killed and was prostrated with grief and had to be removed to the family residence. Mrs. McClintock swooned on learning of the news of her husband's death.

Mr. McClintock was 52 years old and was born in McClintockville, Venango county. He had lived in Pittsburgh only two years, although he had been coming here frequently during the past 35 years. He and his son bought out a boarding stable business in Frankstown avenue two years ago. Previous to coming to Pittsburgh he owned the "Ingleside" stock farm, about a mile outside of Meadville, Crawford county. He was a stock raiser and made a specialty of Jersey cows. He was a son of Hamilton McClintock, a pioneer oil producer. His boyhood days were largely spent with "Coal Oil Johnny" Steele, who was the adopted son of his aunt, Mrs. McClintock.

About 30 years ago William McClintock was married to Miss Laura Flinn of Pittsburgh, who, with his son, three brothers and two sisters, survive. The latter are: H. F. McClintock of the firm of McClintock & Irvine, manufacturers of paint and oil products; James, of Meadville, Louis of Topeka, Kan., Mrs. David McK. Lloyd of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Kinter of Oil City.

At one time Mr. McClintock was one of the proprietors of the Allegheny oil works. He was a member of the Highland Presbyterian church.

SUITS ENTERED AGAINST POLICE

Accused of Breaking Into a House Without a Warrant and Making a Raid.

THEY'RE ASKED TO PAY $90,000

Supt. McTighe Declined to Discuss the Matter—Officer John Kennedy Recommended for Dismissal—Men He Fought With Are Exonerated.

Supt. John P. McTighe's policemen are in trouble again. In common pleas court No. 3 yesterday Attorney H. I. Riley entered suits against three officers for making a raid without warrant or information, and asking for damages of $90,000. The defendants are Capt. J. N. Fredericks, Lieutenant Thomas J. Morley and Officer William Walsh. The plaintiffs are Retta Edgar and Charles Bilmire of No. 51 Twelfth street, South Side. The first named plaintiff demands $20,000 from each officer and Bilmire claims $10,000.

Retta Edgar says that after midnight, August 2, the officers went to her house, broke in the door, hauled, pulled her around and badly injured her. She was then taken to the station house, where she was retained for 12 hours. She was given a hearing before Police Magistrate Vitchestein and discharged. Bilmire was boarding at the house at the time and was also arrested.

Supt. McTighe refused to talk about the matter last night.

"The officers made the arrest and they should know what they were doing," said the police official. "The court will determine who was right, however."

Officer John Kennedy, who fought with Capt. Matthew Gorman and Lieut. Charles Grimes last week, was before the police board yesterday morning. The board rendered a verdict recommending his discharge and exonerating Capt. Gorman from all blame. Supt. John P. McTighe presided. In addition to disposing of Kennedy's case, Officers O'Malley and Hart were recommended for dismissal.

THE DEATH ROLL

Daniel Haus.

Daniel Haus, 74 years old, a retired business man of Pittsburgh, died early yesterday morning of chronic bronchitis and weak heart at the home of his son, Edward C. Haus, No. 5012 Mignonette street, East End. Mr. Haus had been living in retirement for the last 15 years. He was born in Baden, Germany, and after serving a year in the German army, he was met at the army barracks by his parents, two brothers, George and Christopher, who went direct to the ship and set sail for the United States. Upon arriving in this country the family came direct to Braddock and resided there for about two years. The family then removed to Pittsburgh, and all the surviving members but one still reside here. While the family lived in Braddock Mr. Haus and his two brothers, George and Christopher, were employed as coal miners on the old Perchman farm in Wilkinsburg, and each day they walked from Braddock to Wilkinsburg and return, receiving 75 cents a day each for their labor in the mine. Mr. Haus later embarked in the restaurant business in Market street, and still later entered the contracting business, his specialty being carpenter work. BIG GLASS PLANT FOR BLAIRSVILLE

Stockholders of the Columbia Company Inspect the New Works in Operation.

MOST COMPLETE OF ITS KIND

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., Aug. 12.—The stockholders of the Columbia Plate Glass Company today made the first formal inspection of their new plant at this place. It was a big event for Blairsville, signalizing the real beginning of the town's greatest industry. The factory in its equipment is declared to be the superior of any in the country, and its owners witnessed it in operation in all departments with a daily output of 3,500 square feet. Within two months this yield will be more than doubled.

The visitors arrived from Pittsburgh in a private car at noon, and were shown through the works by General Manager W. D. Keyes and Superintendent S. M. Cornell. To many of the stockholders the making of plate glass was a novel sight, and in a short time they were enabled to witness the whole process, from the mixing of the sand "batch" until the mammoth window "lights," 18x20 feet, were turned out of the finishing room and packed for shipment.

Second Only to Ford City.

In size the factory is second only to the big plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at Ford City, but in its labor-saving machinery and in the construction of its tempering apparatus, it is provided with the very latest improvements. The visitors found light and airy buildings housing the furnaces and finishing rooms, as well as a sumptuous suite of offices, and electric lights, a plant for a private gas works and automatic stokers for feeding the boilers' furnaces.

The morning was spent in the casting department, and after luncheon, which was served in the building, the visitors were shown the intricate processes of grinding, polishing and cutting the heavy crystal plates. When the party left, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Keyes and the other officers of the company.

The company has created an industry which is the commercial pride of Blairsville. Nearly 300 men are employed and the annual payroll will exceed $300,000. There is no colonization of the workmen, and every employe has a good thrifty citizen of the community, in consequence the deposits in the local banks have been doubled since the factory was opened.

Boom in Building.

Blairsville real estate men could not build houses fast enough to accommodate the increase in the town's population, and the company has erected 50 brick dwellings for the better class of its skilled workers.

Pittsburgh capital is almost wholly represented. The officers are S. C. Grier, president; Joseph Hastings, vice president; J. J. Conroy, secretary and treasurer, and W. D. Keyes, general manager. The above named, with C. W. Dahlinger, J. N. Davidson, J. P. McKinney, John Dewar, T. Lee Clark, Chester D. Hoak, J. R. Murphy, Dr. C. H. Voigt and John M. Goehring were the leading promoters of the enterprise.

The company was organized about two years ago, and began operations last April. The buildings cover about the corner of a 25-acre tract, and adjoining there is 90 acres of coal land. Besides the officers, those who attended the inspection were George Gray, C. W. Pusey, C. W. Hamilton, A. H. Mercer, Irvin Neckermann, V. Taylor, James Hay, T. P. Trimble, C. C. Taylor, Percey E. Hunter, John Morrow, J. E. Ash, Thomas McHenry, John S. Hetzel, August Loch, N. A. Veegtly and William Bader.

TELEGRAPH OPERATOR KILLED BY A BLOW

Three Arrests Follow the Death of William Long at Bolivar, Pa.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Aug. 12.—Failed by a terrific blow alleged to have been inflicted by William Skinner of Fairfield township, William Long, a Pennsylvania railroad telegraph operator, died at the home of his uncle, in Bolivar, this morning. Skinner was arrested and brought to jail, having been held responsible for Long's death by Coroner Charles A. Wynn. William Kuhn and Daniel W. Stiffey, both of Bolivar, were also arrested, charged with having abetted the alleged murder.

The attack was the sequel to a serenade that was given a newly married couple in Bolivar, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermott. Among the friends of the young couple who gathered during the serenade was William Long, one of the best known young men of the town. Skinner, Kuhn and Stiffey, it is alleged, had spent the afternoon near Bolivar in drinking beer, and had also been attracted by the serenade.

The music over, Long and his companions started away. Skinner and his crowd followed, and overtaking the young telegraph operator, Skinner is said to have made the boast that he could "lick any Long in Bolivar." Long, it is claimed, made every effort to get away from Skinner, and when he was joined by his brother Benjamin, continued at a rapid pace toward his home. Skinner, Stiffey and Kuhn overtook the brothers and Stiffey is said to have pushed Benjamin to one side of the road. Long, according to the testimony of witnesses at the inquest, turned to look back when Skinner struck him a terrific blow on the left jaw. Long fell unconscious on the road.

Cumberland Convention Officers in Doubt About One of the Candidates.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Aug. 12.—Dr. W. F. Twigg, chairman of yesterday's Republican convention, and William Metz, secretary, today refused to sign the papers accrediting E. Brooke Whiting as the nominee for state's attorney. They also refused to sign papers for David A. Robb, Mr. Whiting's opponent. The figures of Secretary Metz yesterday gave the nomination to Mr. Robb, and he was declared the nominee. George G. Young, assistant secretary, protested against the action, read his figures, district by district, before the convention, and on them Chairman Twigg announced a reversal of his former decision and declared E. Brooke Whiting the nominee.

Today Dr. Twigg stated that he had decided to let higher authorities decide which is the nominee for state's attorney. Dr. Twigg stated, however, that he will sign the credentials of all other candidates, including Martin V. Rice for county commissioner, whose nomination is contested by Owen Price, Jr., of Elkhart.

Wouldn't Stand For Carpet Tacks.

An uncontrollable desire to play pranks on a fellow-workman has got William Byers a term in the workhouse. Byers was given a hearing yesterday morning by Magistrate J. F. Kane on a charge of disorderly conduct. It was brought out that Byers till recently worked for William Bokermann of No. 5138 Butler street. He and another employe slept in a room over the stable. Byers' pranks became so numerous and annoying that his fellow-workman complained and Byers was discharged. It was alleged at the hearing that Byers went to the room Tuesday night and scattered carpet tacks over the bed. For this he was given 30 days.

PERSONALS

Maj. R. W. A. Simmons, superintendent of the Pittsburgh Toy mission, accompanied by Mrs. Simmons, has returned to Pittsburgh from Alaska, where he went some time ago in the interest of a mining company in which Pittsburghers are the principal stockholders. The company's plant is on Prince of Wales island, on which the company has 560 acres. Maj. Simmons says the climate of Alaska along the coast, where most of the towns are, is delightful and that he picked flowers there from the ground on July 1. The town springing up around the company's plant, Maj. Simmons says, has been named Pittsburgh. The region contains large deposits of good anthracite coal, iron ore, graphite and limestone. Veins of copper, Maj. Simmons says, will take 20 years for his company to exhaust its holdings. Maj. Simmons and his wife will return to Pittsburgh, Alaska, as soon as they close up their affairs in this city.

Henry McComb, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Plum township, Allegheny county, celebrated the 81st anniversary of his birth yesterday at his home near Unity station. Mr. McComb was for a number of years employed in the iron business in Pittsburgh, being one of the best workmen of his day. In the sports in which the dinner party engaged yesterday, none were more lithe and sperry than he. The great strength of his boyhood days he retained to an unusual degree, even at the age of 81. There was present at the dinner party given at the old homestead by his son William and wife, children, grandchildren and one great-grand child, Florence McComb Hamilton, as well as a number of friends and old acquaintances.

Corporal Charles R. Francis of the local marine recruiting station, volunteered for service in the Philippine islands and left last night to join a battalion being formed at Philadelphia to be sent to the Philippines. It is said that several of the members of Uncle Sam's fighting forces do not like to go to the Philippines. Joseph B. Graf has been assigned to the local recruiting station in place of Francis.

R. C. McChesney, secretary-treasurer of the Hunstock Development Company, which operates the Peruvite plantation, near Vera Cruz, Mex., arrived yesterday from a visit to the plantation. Mr. McChesney said the season for the growth of the tropical fruits which the company cultivates, had been excellent, and the shipping results profitable.

Col. Frank I. Rutledge of the Eighteenth regiment, N. G. P., left last night for Mt. Clemens, where he hopes to be cured of his rheumatism. Col. Rutledge appeared in the Union station accompanied by Mrs. Rutledge and supported by Dr. R. S. Ralston, the regimental surgeon. He looked very weak, and has not been out of the house for weeks. Lieut. Col. J. C. Kay also saw him off on the train. Col. Rutledge has been ill for weeks and on account of rheumatism he was unable to be with his regiment at the annual camp in Somerset.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Pirates "nosed" Brooklyn out of the first game of the final series between these teams at Washington park, Brooklyn, this afternoon, 6 to 5, in a long drawn out game, due to the large number of bases on balls given. What promised to develop into a "swatfest" on both sides was quickly sidetracked when Vail replaced Leever in the fourth inning and Jones took up Reidy's burden in the third inning. These changes choked off the hitting on both sides.

The visitors could do nothing with Jones except in the sixth inning, when Clarke's men tied and won the game by scoring two runs. Vail, who replaced Leever, was pulled out of several holes and only the remarkable fielding of his team mates prevented the Hanlonites from winning the game.

To Wagner more than any other Pirate is today's victory due. The Carnegie boy's playing at short was little less than remarkable. On two different occasions he ran near second base and dug up what were apparently safe hits and nailed Brooklyn runners at first. Again in the seventh inning, with two men on the corners, he jumped in the air and pulled down Jones' liner, saving the day for the Pirates.

After Beaumont was retired, Strang to first on the first inning, Clarke, Leach and Wagner singled in succession, the former scoring. Bransfield drove a long fly to Sheckard which allowed Leach to make a run. With Phelps down in the second inning, Leever, Beaumont and Clarke singled, the former scoring. Leach tried to sacrifice, but failed. Beaumont and Clarke worked the double steal successfully, the former chalking later on a passed ball.

In the sixth Sebring got a walk from Jones. Phelps singled. Vail tried to sacrifice, but failed. Beaumont was retired, but Clarke was hit with a pitched ball. Leach doubled, sending in Sebring and Phelps with the winning run.

The locals scored in the second inning on Doyle's single, Dahlen's sacrifice and McCreery's single over second base.

Pittsburgh's only run was tallied in the third. Gessler batted for Reidy and walked. Strang was hit with a pitched ball. Shreckard hit to Leever and was retired at first. On Dobbs' fly to Dahlen the former scored. Doyle doubled and Strang romped home easily with run No. 3. In the fourth Brooklyn took the lead by one run, which they held just for one inning, for Leever, after a fine effort at Jacklitsch walked. Jones beat out an infield hit. Strang followed with a single, scoring Jacklitsch. Sheckard's hit to Ritchey, Jones scored the Brooklyn's fifth and last run. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Eddie Doheny, the southpaw twirler of the Pittsburgh team, did not join the team in New York as was expected, but wired Manager Clarke for instructions. Clarke ordered him to join the team at Boston on Saturday.

Eddie Phelps appeared in the game after his long lay-off on account of an injured leg. Phelps did great work behind the bat, but his leg showed no indication of weakness. The wildness of the pitchers added greatly to his troubles as a backstop, but he did not seem to mind the imposition of the extra work. He put up a good game at all points.

Tim Hurst, as umpire, showed a tendency to make a ball out the plate when the Pittsburgh men were on the firing line, but as a rule his work was very fair, and every one knows that Hurst has the game down fine. As Pittsburgh won Hurst can be excused for what at times looked like rather hard decisions for Pittsburgh to swallow.

President Pulliam announced that the Philadelphia owners had decided to play no games until after the inquest into the accident at the ground there this week. The inquest will be held next Tuesday. This decision knocks Cincinnati and Chicago out of games in Philadelphia City, and these games will have to be played in the week's double-headers.

Wagner, as usual, was the star member of the aggregation. Twice he took the crowd off its feet. One of the greatest plays ever seen on any diamond was pulled off by Honus during the half inning in the fourth, with two men on the corners, he jumped in the air and pulled down Jones' liner, saving the day for the Pirates.

To Wagner more than any other Pirate is today's victory due. The Carnegie boy's playing at short was little less than remarkable. On two different occasions he ran near second base and dug up what were apparently safe hits and nailed Brooklyn runners at first. Again in the seventh inning, with two men on the corners, he jumped in the air and pulled down Jones' liner, saving the day for the Pirates.

CORNERS CHOSEN BY THE FIGHTERS

Jeffries Has Southeast Chair Which Was Occupied by Ruhlin, Whom He Beat.

TREMENDUOUS TICKET SALE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Champion James J. Jeffries and Ex-Champion James J. Corbett have decided on the corners they will occupy in the pavilion when they clash for the heavyweight title Friday night. Jeffries will have the southeast corner of the squared circle and Corbett the northwest.

The arrangement goes to prove that there is nothing of the superstitious about the champion. The last time Jeff fought in the pavilion was when he met Gus Ruhlin on November 15, 1901, and won an easy five-round victory over the Akron giant. On that occasion Ruhlin sat where Jeffries will sit on Friday evening and the boilermaker had the corner Corbett will occupy. Evidently the belief in "unlucky corners," so common among fighters, is not held by Jeffries.

Never in the history of the ring has there been such an advance sale of tickets as in the case of the impending mill. The total taken in at the box office, including the seats and boxes already sold, will be fully $60,000. This would have been "big money" even in the most prosperous days of the boxing game in New York state.

How great is the demand for seats may be best judged by an incident which occurred this evening. Chief of Police Whitman sent a message to Manager Coffroth with a note and $50 in cash. The note stated that a former commissioner of police wished to see the battle and take a couple of friends along. The $50 was to pay for seats in the boxes at the ringside. Coffroth was compelled to send back the four shining twenties with the explanation that there was not a seat left. In spite of the effort of the managers some of the seats may have fallen into the hands of speculators, as they do in every big affair of this kind, but for nearly six weeks the tickets have been going steadily to fill the advance orders from different parts of the country.

The amount of money in town today is surprising. Twenty Quaker City sports have come along already with $250,000 to lay down on Jeffries at 2 to 1. All the sports in Los Angeles are here with Jeffries money sticking out of their pockets, and the indications are that every dollar that Corbett or his friends can raise will be covered by friends of Jeff before the call of time. San Francisco is indeed all agog over the big fight. There is not a boy on the streets who is without a theory regarding the way the battle should turn. "Along the Line!" it is the one absorbing topic of conversation.

Three thousand is a conservative estimate of the number of persons who will see the mill. The crowd will be bigger than any that ever witnessed a championship battle in the Madison Square Garden. And the explanation of this record-breaking interest lies not in the fact that it is a championship fight that is to be fought, but that two men of extreme opposite types are to do battle. Two men of the Jeffries type never would draw the house that these two will between Jeffries and Corbett will. Two Corbetts meeting in the ring at the Mechanics' pavilion would not begin to create the interest that centers in the coming mill. The great fight of pugilism is the study of contrasts—the puzzle that can be solved only by the fight itself.

Will Corbett's marvelous skill, aided by the fine condition into which he has got himself through many months of hard training, enable him to overcome the monstrous advantage that Jeff will have in bulk and strength, or will the giant crush him down by sheer strength, as he has other fighters before him?

Corbett will be the exponent of brain power, opposed to gigantic brute strength. It is true that Jeffries' record and the art that is inspired by seeing this titan among men will make him a decided favorite in the ringside betting. But the reports that he come from Bob Fitzsimmons' training camp say he will also have an effect. Other Goliaths in the history of the world and of the prize ring have met their Davids, and the fact is not forgotten. Bob Fitzsimmons is in the game, making plans for Jeff and himself. He said today:

"After this fight I intend to go on the road with Jeff and we will make a mint of money. The only thing that would make a change in our plans would be to have Jeff whipped, and we don't count on that at all. There is not a chance. I don't intend to fight for a while, and I should take a lot of money to get me into the ring just now. I weigh 190 pounds stripped, and I have been living easy and not keeping in condition."

A report from Los Angeles, the home of Jeffries, states that the champion is a 3 to 1 choice there. Jeffries, accompanied by his brother Jack, Billy Delaney and Joe Kennedy, here now quartered in the rooms of the Reliance club in Oakland, where they will remain until Friday evening. Last night he was in the gymnasium until 10 o'clock. His work consisted of sixty 10 rounds with his brother Jack and Joe Kennedy, skipping the rope 1,200 times and finishing with a closing dance. Then he had a rub-down and retired, sleeping soundly. When he awoke he felt so well that he went on the road. Tomorrow he will have a "warm-up" and on Friday he will rest the entire day.

Corbett punched the light bag for a few rounds this morning and sparred with Sam Berger and Yank Kenedy. His exercises this afternoon consisted of sixty 10 rounds with Berger and Cunningham.

An important side issue of the big fight will be the contest between Harry Forbes and Frank Neill for the bantam weight championship, Thursday. Both men say they will enter the ring at 116 pounds. Betting is 6 to 10, in favor of Neill.

ENGLISH GOLFERS FINISH AHEAD OF AMERICANS

Chick, of Harvard, Loses to Allison in Extra Hole, Which Permits Visitors to Win.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAMILTON, MASS., Aug. 12.—The visiting English intercollegiate golfers finished their contest with the American college players on the links of the Myopia Hunt club today by winning the two-ball competition 6 points to 5 which, added to the score made yesterday in the four-ball match, made the total for the two days' play 9 to 7, in favor of England. The contest had an exciting finish, an extra hole being necessary in the final match, which settled whether the Englishmen would win or halve the whole event. This was the Chick-Allison match, the former of Harvard and the latter of Oxford, and Allison won through a marvelous burst of fine playing in the last two holes. Nearly all the matches today were well fought.

In going to the 19th Allison was hole high, with a tremendous drive of fully 240 yards. Chick was on the green in the customary 2, and Allison's second pieced him about 15 feet away from the hole. Chick missed his long put by half an inch, Allison took the hole and match and clinched the victory for the Englishmen by running down his long put for a three. The result of the 11 matches, in order of their starts, are as follows:

H. W. Beveridge, Oxford, beat Bruce Smith, Yale, 3 up, 2 to play. Max Behr, Yale, beat Lord Charles Oxford, 4 up, 3 to play. G. D. Barnie, Oxford, beat Gwyn Wilson, Harvard, 1 up (19 holes). P. W. Leathart, Cambridge, beat J. W. Baker Princeton, 4 up, 2 to play. G. L. Forbes, Oxford

SEA SERPENT NOW ON EXHIBITION

Atlantic City Fishermen Capture Strange Fish 28 Miles Off Shore.

WAS ASLEEP ON THE WATER

Has Ears Two Feet Long and Weighs Several Hundred Pounds—Strange Creature Belongs to the Unclassified Species—Trolley Line Blocked.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 12.

It was hardly to be expected that the season could go by without the real live sea serpent story bobbing up. This time, however, it is not a serpent but a what-is-it, that no one seems to be able to describe. The fish was discovered by Captain Clark on the sloop yacht Red Dragon. While fishing about 28 miles off the coast at 12 o'clock last night for weak fish, the crew of the Red Dragon discovered a strange fish floating on the surface of the ocean apparently asleep. It was about 12 feet in length and unlike any other finny denizen of the deep that Captain Clark or any of his men had ever seen before. It differentiated chiefly from the usual run of fish, however, in that it had ears about two feet in length and in shape resembling those of an elephant. Consequently for want of a better name, the crew dubbed it the elephant fish.

An effort was made to capture it, and after considerable difficulty, for it weighed several hundred pounds, the men managed to get it on board. The "what-is-it" was brought to the Inlet this morning, where it is now on exhibition near the Inlet House. As yet none of the old salts or any of the followers of Isaac Walton have been able to identify the fish as belonging to any known species, and it seems destined to remain one of the mysteries of the sea.

Blocked By the Pennsy.

The Atlantic City and Suburban Trolley Company are preparing to bring suit in the court of chancery to compel the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to permit it to cross the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at North Florida avenue at the Chelsea branch. The suburban tracks are laid across the meadow and cars could be running in a short time if the crossing could be made. A force of men attempted it the other day, but were halted by Pennsylvania employes. The Atlantic and Suburban Company will now wait for the courts to settle the controversy.

Y. M. C. A. Awaits Subscriptions.

Clarence M. Bush of this city made a $5,000 donation to the fund for the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building in this city. It is one of the largest subscriptions yet received. A number of other citizens interested in the movement have subscribed $1,000 each. It is thought if persuaded to subscribe $1,000 each the association will proceed with the erection of the building, and raise the balance of the amount by $500 subscriptions.

At the Baby Show.

Thirty-seven pretty babies were entered in the baby show at the steel pier, and as many proud mothers stood by and waited for the thousands of people present to pronounce the verdict as to which of the number would receive the prizes awarded by the pier management.

It was the mother of little Dorothy Bond of Charleston, W. Va., who went away from the pier the proudest of mothers, for it was little Dorothy who was adjudged to be the prettiest of the babies entered, and she was awarded a handsome cloak. The fattest baby was Albion Bowers of Philadelphia, who captured a silver fern dish as a prize. Plain Dorothy Bond was Minnie Schoenthal of Washington, Pa., who received a silver candle stick.

Another Blue Law Crusade.

A new kind of crusade which may rival that of Wilkinsburg, was begun by the liquor dealers in Atalntic City today. The saloon men have had a detective at work for several weeks and he swore out warrants for the arrest of the proprietors of six of the largest and best in the city, four of which are located on the boardwalk, charged with selling liquor without a license. The defendants are Leeds & Doenier, H. B. Leeds, William Wright, H. Clay Shaw, M. H. Shadaker and Francis H. Brendan. It is announced that warrants will be issued tomorrow for 15 other druggists. The complaint of the saloonkeepers is that the druggists in selling liquor in quart bottles to the hotel trade have made a serious inroad into their business, and demand that if they continue in the trade they shall pay a retail license fee of $200.

SCHWAB IS FOURTH.

Former President of Steel Corporation Still a Large Stockholder.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The Wall Street Journal says an intimate business associate of Charles M. Schwab, former president of the United States Steel Corporation, says:

"Mr. Schwab's recent statement that he was one of the largest stockholders of the Steel Corporation was correct. He is one of the four largest holders of the steel issues today, both common and preferred.

"The four biggest shareholders are Henry Phipps, with 185,000 shares, both issues; Henry C. Frick, who has 150,000 shares of the preferred and 50,000 shares of the common, a total of 150,000; John D. Rockefeller, with a total of 140,349 shares, and Mr. Schwab, who has about 80,000 shares of preferred and 80,000 shares of the common, a total of 150,000, making him the lowest of the four largest shareholders.

"Since Mr. Schwab's return from Europe he has bought common stock at the low figure and may now have even more than the 85,000 shares credited with."

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Building Trades Employers' association today held the largest mass meeting of the association since the troubles in the building trades began, and voted to continue the tie-up.

MURDER BY MOBS NEVER JUSTIFIED

Dr. Babbitt at Chautauqua Contradicts Statements of John Temple Graves.

GEN. GORDON GIVES LECTURE

"Last Days of the Confederacy" Interests Large Audience—Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman Conducts Devotional Hour—Many Attractions at Famous Summer Resort.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The discussion of the mob spirit today was taken up by Dr. Dean Richmond Babbitt, pastor of the Church of the Epiphany of Brooklyn. Dr. Babbitt was so stirred up by the address of Mr. Graves yesterday that he spent most of the hour in refuting what the Georgian had said.

Dr. Babbitt asserts that Mr. Graves does not correctly represent the southern people when in the name of chivalry he urges hatred for a weaker race or to avenge offended womanhood to call for murder or to uphold the white supremacy to preach the forced exile of the negro.

Mr. Graves' statements, he says, were partial, one-sided and incomplete. They at best, represented those of radical tendencies in the south and could not be taken as the sentiments of the mass of the southern people.

General John B. Gordon gave this afternoon his famous lecture on "The Last Days of the Confederacy." General Gordon is a favorite at Chautauqua, and his lecture, though full of both humor and pathos, concerning the closing days of the civil war, has nothing to offend the most radical northerner or southerner.

The oratorio "Elijah," given by the choir last week, was such a success that the repeated demands for its repetition will be granted this evening. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman is conducting the devotional hour this week and is making that exercise the best attended one, with the exception of the conferences on the mob spirit.

STALEY'S WINNINGS.

Estimated Pittsburgher Took $25,000 Out of Saratoga Betting Ring.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The greatest betting success of the day was accomplished by John Staley of Pittsburgh. Staley began with a sensational and winning play on Whitney's Hippocrates, which won the first race. How much money Staley took out of the ring only he knows, and he is fairly good at keeping his own secrets. But a fair idea of his operations may be obtained when it is known that he bet $8,000 straight and $3,000 place with "Bill" Cowen on Hippocrates at 16 to 5 and even money. From the one book he took $20,000. Remaining bares of odds estimated that he won as much more elsewhere in the ring.

For the second race Staley had a small wager on Rooster, which won under the skillful handling of F. Ambrose Clark, stepson of Bishop Potter. Pittsburgh Phil also had a nice wager on Rowdy. Staley again made himself felt in the United States Hotel stakes. It was his money that kept the price of Montresson down. Two commissions reached the ring at the same time. Staley got the machine for $4,000 on Montresson to win and a like amount on the son of Ornament to take place. This commission was accepted by Billy Cowen, who had two and a half to one and even money. The third commission of the Drake commission of $3,000 on Capt. Brown's Conjurer, a colt which found the heavy going not to his liking. Conjurer won at 4 to 1, and they only got $2,000 back. Sent into the ring by Capt. Brown made little impression. When Montresson won it was estimated that Staley had won about $25,000.

THREE KILLED IN FURNACE.

Workmen Crushed to Death by Falling of Big Bell from Top of Stack.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 12.—The Cleveland Furnace Company's plant, just completed at a cost of nearly $1,000,000, was today, the scene of an accident in which three men lost their lives. The dead are Frank Virone, George Peters and Michael Kreeh.

The first blowing-in of the new blast furnace was to come tonight, and the three men were inside the stack, laying the last course of material. The huge bell at the top of the stack, 75 feet above, fell down on them. It weighed six tons, and in falling tilted on its side in such a manner that the bodies could not be reached except from the top of the stack. By lowering ropes the bodies were thus removed.

BIGELOW COMING HOME.

Director of the Public Works Department Left Washington Last Night.

Director Edward M. Bigelow of the department of public works, is expected to arrive in Pittsburgh this morning, after an absence of several weeks at Virginia Hot Springs, where he went for his health and a vacation.

According to a special dispatch from Washington to The Gazette, the director arrived in the capital early yesterday evening. He stayed in Washington an hour and left on the Pennsylvania railroad at 7:00 p. m. It is presumed he was headed for Pittsburgh, where he is to be expected for the last two weeks.

LOCAL FIRM BURNED OUT.

Stave Warehouse and Lumber Yards of Fehl & Sons at Owingsville Destroyed.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., Aug. 12.—(Special)—The stave mills warehouse and lumber yards belonging to W. J. Fehl & Son, of Pittsburgh, at Salt Lick, this county, were destroyed by fire last night, entailing a loss of $53,000, without insurance. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Twenty-five cars loaded with oil from Regland, Ohio, were rushed through the fire by the engineer, to prevent their being burned. The fast Chesapeake & Ohio express also had to run the fiery gauntlet, most of the windows in the coaches being broken out. Earl Fehl, Jr., is employed when his logs was made known and was carried home unconscious. Earl Fehl, Jr., a member of the firm, is now in Pittsburgh.

BATTLE OF BULLETS ON TRAIN NEAR DUBOIS

DUBOIS, PA., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—After being ejected three different times from a Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh passenger train at Luthersburg, this afternoon, Oscar Hayes, it is charged, opened fire on the train crew with a revolver, and Baggageman Ed Bennett responded in the same way. No one was hit, but great excitement prevailed among the passengers for some time. Hayes was arrested at Curwensville. His description fits that of the man wanted at Ridgway for assaulting Miss Lotto Slinger and an officer went to Curwensville this evening to try to identify him.

YOUNG CORBETT CLINCHES CONTEST

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Young Corbett tonight clinched a contest with Ben Jordan of England by sending $1,500 to Harry Corbett in San Francisco to bind a match for the lightweight championship of the world. Jordan notified Corbett that he would sail on the first steamer after Corbett had posted the $1,500 to guarantee a match. It is understood that Jordan and Corbett will fight in San Francisco the last week in October.

LARGE CROWDS WERE GUESTS OF Y. M. I.

Pleasant Gathering at Calhoun Park Yesterday. Young People Dance.

The annual reunion of the Young Men's Institute was held yesterday at Calhoun park, under the auspices of the Pittsburgh District Council. A great crowd gathered early at the park and each car from the city took out big additions to the party. There were no formal exercises of any kind, those present merely taking in all the various amusements with which the park abounds.

Dancing was the most popular enjoyment. The dancing pavilion was patronized during the afternoon and well into the night. Many young couples enjoyed themselves on the floor.

The affair was in charge of B. J. Morrison, chairman of the day's events, and deputy supreme president of the Institute. Others who were present with their families and who helped make the day a success were B. J. Cawley, grand president of the Pennsylvania jurisdiction of the Institute; P. H. Keefe, president of the board of supreme directors; William H. Mueller, grand master of the three team of Ambrose council; P. C. Murphy, deputy grand treasurer, District C. D. J. Cullinan, supreme treasurer, and W. J. Ryan, supreme director. Lawrence B. Cook, a candidate for the Republican nomination for district attorney, was present with a number of friends.

JOSEPH LEITER, JR., MAY BUY $8,000,000 CONCERN

In Pittsburgh to Figure on the Value of the Hidalgo Mining Company of Mexico.

Negotiations have been opened by Joseph Leiter, Jr., of Chicago for the purchase of the Hidalgo Mining Company of Mexico, which is practically owned by Pittsburgh capitalists. Mr. Leiter spent the greater part of yesterday in conference with officials of that company in the Westinghouse building. He has just returned from Mexico, where he made an extensive survey of the properties of the mining concern. About $8,000,000 is involved. Mr. Leiter last night said:

"I am here to go over the affairs of the mining company with a view of ascertaining at what figure it can be purchased, if at all."

He would not even intimate that the concern is to be sold, and S. E. Gill, president of the Parral & Durango railroad, a subsidiary company of the Hidalgo corporation, took practically the same stand. Continuing Mr. Leiter said:

"It is a personal matter with me, and I do not care to talk at all it to a great extent. I do not even know that anything will come out of it."

A telegraphic story from Austin, Tex., yesterday quoted James Herzell, a mine operator of Parral, Mexico, as saying that Mr. Leiter has been trying to get a syndicate that has been formed to take over the Hidalgo Mining Company. Mr. Leiter would not discuss this.

The Hidalgo owns much valuable property near Parral, and is now operating two mills on silver. T. M. Armstrong of the Armstrong Cork Company, this city, is president; J. R. McClinley of the Westinghouse interests, is vice president, and Mr. Gill, secretary, of the Hidalgo company.

ELEPHANT KILLS ZEBRA.

Typical Jungle Duel at Coney Island Results in Death of Valuable Animal.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—In a death struggle today between Tommy, sirliest of Coney Island elephants, and Stripes, the favorite zebra of the collection, the zebra was choked into insensibility and then killed by the elephant.

The first intimation that there was a typical jungle duel came when the motor-man of a Fifth avenue car heard the death cry of the zebra. Now and then Stripes would retire beyond the danger zone and calmly contemplate Tommy. This increased the elephant's rage, and Stripes, tempting death once too often, was caught about the neck by Tommy's trunk and choked.

When Tommy had Stripes at his mercy he gored him again and again with his tusks and at last trampled upon the body of his foe.

DEAF MUTE BECOMES UNIVERSITY INSTRUCTOR

LEIPSIC, Aug. 12.—(Special Cable.)—The university of Leipsic is probably the only one in the world which counts among its professors a deaf mute, and it can only claim this distinction since yesterday, when Walter Kuntze was made a doctor of philosophy with rights to give lectures at the university. Kuntze, who was born a deaf mute, has taught himself to pronounce words slowly but very distinctly. The degree of Ph. D. was conferred upon him for an excellent treatise comparing American and German red clover.

PLAY BILLS FOR NEXT WEEK ARE INTERESTING

Empire Opens Next Saturday Evening—Traction Resorts Still in the Running.

"The Fisherman's Daughter" a comedy-drama, will be the opening attraction at the Empire theater for seven nights and two matinees, beginning next Saturday evening. "The Fisherman's Daughter" is said to be the best drama ever written by Milton Nobles. It tells in three acts, brimful of action, the love story of Maggie Manley, the dainty little fisher-maiden, who is really an heiress in disguise. Her lover is Gerald Dane, a young naval officer in the U. S. Navy. Staggie, a crusty old fisher, a retired sea captain, opposed to all "furrin." There are a number of other characters and interwoven are the life stories of several of these, which help to build up the plot and complete the story. Hilda Thomas, the clever comedienne is the star, and it is said she plays her part with a dash, vivacity and fidelity to life, that demonstrates her unmistakable talents as an actress.

Once more Harry Clay Blaney's production of "Across the Pacific" will be at the Bijou next week, commencing with Monday's matinee. Everything has been done to make it one of the most realistic plays on the stage. There are gatling guns, horses, troops, transports and innumerable other effects to make it interesting and exciting. It is a play of the Spanish-American war time, the scenes being mostly in the Philippines, where some very exciting pursuits take place. One of the features of the production is Blaney's Rough Rider band, under the leadership of Maj. Dhen.

Harry W. Williams, Jr., will be at home with his Imperial Burlesquers next week, opening with a Monday matinee. With such a corps of artists as Frank Finney, Cliff Gordon, John E. Cain and "Snitz" Moore there is no reason why the show should not be a success. Manager Williams, Jr., who has a hobby for pretty costumes, has outdone himself this season in this line.

"La Mascotte" is to be presented at the Duquesne garden next week by the home company and the assurance is given that it will be one of the best presentations of the season. This opera gives ample opportunity for strong comedy and John J. Sparrow, William Cortiss, the comedians, will shine in their respective roles. William Stephens, the new tenor, who scored with unusual success in Lasky Parker's production of "Faust" for the balance of the season and will essay an important role. Miss Mary Carrington will have a congenial character and her magnificent voice will be heard to advantage. Frank Raffael, the baritone; Margaret Robinson and Miss Josephine Bartlett will be cast to advantage.

Next Sunday will be a big Sunday artistically at the traction parks, for what are considered the best bands in this section are to give concerts at that time. The Second Regiment will be at Calhoun, for there will be two bands, in addition to which two trios of vaudeville artists will be on the bill. The Dillon trio and the Barry & Woolford trio. Binney's Rough Rider band will be there, as well as the Braddock Library band.

At Kennywood Park the Thirteenth band, under the direction of Jean DeBacker, will give both concerts. Hattie North, the comedienne, and Tobiat & Sregor, fun-makers, are on the list of special features.

Southern park will have the Homestead Library band, which has just returned from a most successful trip. Pelardo, the musical wonder who imitates with his mouth all the instruments used in an orchestra or band, is one of the special features, while Maude Bordeaux, the vocalist, and Murphy & Palmer, characteristic singers, are others on the list.

DENIES SELLING STOCK TO FIEGEL

Robert E. Scantlin Tells His Story of a Transaction Ending in Court.

GAS COMPANY'S TEST SUIT

Denies City Can Tax Its Real Estate Under Charter Granted in 1856—Preliminary Injunction Granted Upon the Driver of Laundry Wagon.

Robert E. Scantlin, who is defendant in a suit for $6,000 damages, entered by C. W. A. Fiegel, who alleged Scantlin had misrepresented the condition of the Stone-Scantlin Company, of which A. B. Stone was a member, to induce Fiegel to buy Stone's stock, denies Fiegel's statements, and will have his attorney, S. G. Bailey, file a plea of not guilty to the action in trespass. Mr. Scantlin said yesterday:

"I never sold Fiegel one cent's worth of stock. He knew of Stone's business reverses in Philadelphia, and knowing they might hurt the business of the Stone-Scantlin Company, which was then very prosperous, Fiegel became anxious to get the stock and invited us to his office. Stone was not anxious to sell, but, believing that the company's interests would best be served, agreed to let Fiegel have the stock, providing he, Stone, would be given the privilege of getting back into the firm when he could. Fiegel got a note discounted for $1,700, using $332.43 for himself and turning over to the firm $1,-300, claiming to have paid a commission of $50 to secure the loan. Before the note came due Fiegel told me that he would have to have $700 to pay on the note, which was made by his aunt, and that the new note could be discounted by the Union Trust Company.

"I was surprised at the turn of affairs, but finally agreed to the rediscounting of the paper. As to the statement Fiegel claims was given to him of the company's affairs, this was only a memorandum taken off the bills and accounts as an estimate. On April 1, Fiegel went to the Colonial Trust Company with a statement, claiming to be from the books, without my knowledge, and tried to get a loan, which was not granted. It is not my intention of leaving town, as he alleges, nor did I have. I have too many friends and business associates here. I make this statement in view of the fact that Fiegel's action does not permit me to file an extended reply so that I can immediately set myself straight before the community, and because it will be nearly two years before the case can be tried, the suit having been entered in common pleas court No. 2."

The South Side Gas Company filed an affidavit of defense to the suit of the city of Pittsburgh to recover taxes on certain buildings and real estate in which an interesting point of law is raised. In the answer the provisions of the charter were cited and it is claimed that the act of the legislature in 1856 the company was given rights to extend its mains through the boroughs of Birmingham, East Birmingham, South Pittsburgh and vicinity and consequently it is a quasi-public corporation, created for the public purposes. It is alleged the property in question is used exclusively for the manufacture of artificial gas, and is not subject to taxation under existing laws.

Estate of Emaline S. Bennett, late of this city, was recorded yesterday. The estate is valued at $44,200, of which $38,-500 represents personal property. Emma H. Kline, a niece, of Center county, is left property on Boggs avenue and 40 shares of stock in the Freehold Real. A niece, Caroline H. Tanner, is also left property in Boggs avenue. The residue of the estate, except certain household effects, which are specifically willed, is left to the decedent's grandchildren, Foy and Albert E. Tanner, a grand-niece, Sarah E. Trace of Meadville, and nephews, Henry H. and Edwin T. Kinne. The American Trust Company is executor.

The account of the trustee of a part of the estate of the late Mary L. Magee, in the Twenty-second ward, sold to the city of Pittsburgh, was filed. It relates to the sale of the technical school site. It is shown the estate received $175,000, which, $20,421.85 was paid out. This includes a mortgage with interest, amounting to $29,278.48, fees to Attorney George C. Wilson, $1,000; commission of $3,500 to D. O. Barr, commission of $2,-000 to Shelby Tittle & Trust Company, and incidental expenses.

The administrator of the estate of William J. Rich charges himself with $82,-783.92, and has a balance of $41,873.61. The guardian of the estate of Henry W. Wilkins filed his account. He charges himself with $34,838.92, and has a balance of $32,212.15.

Judge Marshall Brown granted the Imperial Laundry Company a preliminary injunction restraining Frank E. Camp from working on a route of the company in Allegheny. He formerly was employed by the plaintiff company, which avers that an agreement existed by which, in the event of his quitting the position, he should not work on the route for a period of two months. The plaintiff says he is working it for another company.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Mrs. Flora H. Aupke sued Mrs. Augusta Weitzel for $2,000 damages for alleged slander. The defendant is accused of saying the plaintiff "broke up" her family.

Application was made for a charter for the Carrick band. The directors are Edward Lightner, Gustav Kramer, Edward Esmiol and Andrew Ambs. Attorney E. E. Cotton represents the band.

David Hunter filed a bill in equity against A. B. Baxter, asking for the specific performance of an agreement to sell the defendant's property in the Twelfth ward for $30,000. It is alleged Baxter paid $1,000 hand money but refused to pay the balance.

MACHINISTS HAVE OFFER.

Westinghouse Machine Company Makes Proposition to End Strike.

The Westinghouse Machine Company at East Pittsburgh has made a proposition to its striking machinists whereby it is hoped work may be resumed in full. A special meeting of the International Association of Machinists has been called for tonight in Mendel's hall, Braddock avenue and Ninth street, Braddock, to act on the proposition.

The company offers an increase in wages, the advance to be brought about without a general scale. The company proposes that the strikers return to work, a short time after which they may apply as individuals for an increase in wages. It is believed that the union will not accept the proposition.

BALTIMORE & OHIO IS STILL BUYING

Railroad Agents Getting Options in Glenwood, Rankin and Braddock.

A COSTLY BANK ENTRANCE

Three Good Allegheny Residences Sold. New Houses Projected for Sewickley. Two Catholic Churches at Ellsworth and Delaney, Pa.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company is the most aggressive buyer of small properties in the market just now, judging by the work of its agents. Within the last three days attempts have been made to secure a large number of residence properties in and near Lafayette street, Twenty-third ward, and a number of property owners are reported to have signed options. The property will be used in connection with the scheme of the railroad company to build two more tracks from Glenwood to McKeesport. In Rankin all but three of about 160 properties on the north side of Baltimore street, extending from Keating street to the Braddock, borough line, have been secured. The deals for these have been pending a year and the deeds will be passed this week. Agents of the company have also renewed operations at Braddock this week and are getting options on the five squares of property on the north side of Hallet street, between Eighth and Thirteenth streets. Repeated offers for these properties have been made this summer, but the prices now being tendered are inducing the owners to sell. The lots are wanted for a site for the new station and to straighten the curve, which is sharp at this point.

Diverting Travel to Fifth Avenue.

Work has just started on the new Fifth avenue entrance to the Mellon National bank, which will be the most costly and imposing entrance in the avenue, with the exception of that of the Farmers bank. The new entrance will be 16 feet wide and 22 feet high, and will extend back 18 feet to the revolving doors. The top of it will be on a level with the top of the second story windows. A significant point about the work is that it will conform to the grade of the avenue after the "Hump" is removed, if this is ever done. The foundations are being put in 3.25 feet below the present street line, so that no change will be necessary in case the street is cut down. At the front of the entrance will be four green marble columns, 18 inches in diameter and 12 feet high. The arch will be of stucco work elaborately decorated. The floor will be laid in marble in white and green patterns. It is the intention of the bank officials to provide this entrance as the main opening to the bank, thus diverting the travel from the Smithfield street doors. Architects Alden & Harlow planned the improvement and the work is being done under the personal direction of Architect James H. Gleasey, supervising architect of the Mellons.

North Side Residences Sold.

Three good residence sales were reported from Allegheny yesterday. Through the Real Estate Savings and Trust Company Charles A. Miller and the firm of William Miller & Sons sold to Mary P. Boyd, No. 1237 Buena Vista street for $12,000. The residence is one of the finest in the second ward, being a three-story stone house of 12 rooms, finished in hard wood and provided with all the modern conveniences. It stands on a lot 20x110 feet, between North avenue and Taylor avenue, and was bought for a home.

To provide a permanent parsonage for the First Christian Church of Allegheny the Elon Wright Co. of Grafton has purchased the Stakeley property, on the north side of Fremont street, Second ward. It is a 10-room brick house, with a lot 20x170 feet. The property is valued at about $9,000.

The third deal was the sale of the residence of Samuel C. Grier at No. 984 North avenue, for $18,000. The sale was negotiated by Hetzel & Hetzel and the property was bought by the Evangelical Lutheran church, to be used as an addition to the present church building.

Fine Houses for Sewickley.

Three fine residences are projected for the Sewickley district. The clargest of these will be built by John B. Booth on the Nevin farm, in the Beaver road back of Sewickley station. It is understood that plans are now being prepared for the house.

On the McKnight & Davis allotment in the Beaver road, near the Osborne borough line, two residences, to cost $15,000 each, are to be built. One of them will be owned by Charles McKnight and the other by Henry Davis. The houses will contain 12 rooms each and will stand on lots 141x200 feet.

George W. Mellott is having plans prepared for nine houses, which he will build on the frontage which he recently bought in Hastings avenue, near the Beechwood boulevard. The houses will cost $5,000 each, and in addition to these he will build a store and apartment house, to cost $20,000, on a lot adjoining.

Architect Marius Bonsseau is preparing plans for a Roman Catholic church, to be built at Ellsworth, Pa., at a cost of $10,000. From plans by the same architect a Roman Catholic church to cost $10,000 will be built at Delaney, Pa. Bids are now being taken by the pastor.

New Company Gets Its Home.

By the delivery of the deed yesterday the Land Title & Trust Company, which has taken over the real estate business of Gault & Giffen, as one department of its business, got title to No. 310 Fourth avenue, formerly owned by the Colonial Trust Company. The actual consideration was $300,000, or $10,000 per foot, a record figure for Fourth avenue realty. The new company gets possession of the front of the building August 15, and will at once occupy the Fourth avenue department, which will be in charge of Isaac Jackson, treasurer of the company. As soon as it gets possession of the offices in the rear the company will make extensive improvements to make them available for the other departments of its business.

A large block of vacant frontage will likely come into the market as the result of grading and paving Reynolds street from Mount Linden to Dallas avenue, in the Twenty-second ward. The work of grading has just started, and it is said that the entire street will be paved this fall.

FLOWERS WERE THERE, BUT DIRECTOR NOT

Visitors to E. M. Bigelow's Office Read False Message in the Flowers.

Persons who called at Director E. M. Bigelow's office on business yesterday instantly thought that the director had arrived, for standing on the desk in his private domain were cut glass epergnes filled with the choicest blooms of the conservatory in Schenley park. When the director is in the city his desk is always ornamented with flowers from the conservatory. When the flowers were seen visitors therefore supposed the director had returned, but they were informed that he was still away and no member of his entourage could account for the magical arrival of the flowers. The director has been away for some time, although he is due to be expected to be absent only two weeks.

E. G. Nicewaner, superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers, in speaking yesterday of the criticisms that have been made on the condition of the streets and the seeming delay in the repair of street pavements that are in bad condition, said that the conditions his bureau were criticised for were a legacy from the former administration.

"It is Mr. Bigelow's ambition to have the streets in the same condition they were in when he was director before," said Mr. Nicewaner, "and we are gradually getting there. The trouble is that Peoth & Flinn have only two repair outfits for the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The firm has the contract for repairing the streets."

"Why don't you make the firm get more repair outfits?" Mr. Nicewaner was asked.

"We can't compel Booth & Flinn to do that," he replied. "They have the contract for making the repairs at so much a yard, and under the contract we cannot compel them to work any faster than they want."

CURRENCY CONFERENCE HAS ENDED SITTINGS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 12.—Senators Aldrich, Spooner and Allison, who, with Senator Platt of Connecticut, have been in conference at Warwick Neck since Monday with the object of drafting a currency measure which the Republican finance committee may present at the next session of congress, left here today for New York. Whether the committee has completed its work has not been announced.

WALL STREET RALLY WAS WELL SUSTAINED

Prices Advanced Steadily and Closed at or Near the Top—Liquidation in Trust Company Shares the Local Feature.

By JOHN O. HAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The action of the eastern stock market yesterday was more encouraging from a "bull" point of view than any for many weeks. There was a slow but steady appreciation in values, which was well sustained throughout the day, and the close was at or near the highest of the day. The movement differed from that which occurred on Thursday of last week, when everybody thought the "turn had come," only to be disappointed the following day by a resumption of liquidation and still lower prices. Yesterday the traders looked upon the early advance as a mere incident in a bear market, and it had not extended to more than a point on the average, when professionals began to sell for another turn on the short side, and commission houses began advising the taking of profits. The selling for both accounts, however, caused only temporary hesitation in the upward movement. It was not accompanied, as so often of late, by a resumption of liquidation. On the contrary the absorption of stock was good, and as the rally continued the offerings of stocks became smaller. Proof of this was seen in the sales recorded. During the first two hours the transactions slightly exceeded 400,000 shares. During the remaining three hours they amounted to less than 400,000 shares, the total for the day being 781,000 shares. A considerable proportion of the early buying was credited to shorts, but it is a question whether the short interest was materially reduced as a result of the day's operations, for the reason that the bears fought the rise during the afternoon.

London turned to the other side of the market yesterday, buying as much as it sold the day before, and those who make a study of international transactions in the market thought that the buying yesterday was more for investment account than for "scalping" between the two markets. London prices came stronger and higher, and this was a factor in the early dealings. On this side prices opened from ½ to 1½ per cent higher, the gains being well distributed. One of the strongest of the railroad issues was Reading, which opened ⅝ higher at 49 and advanced steadily to 51¾, representing a net recovery of nearly 3 per cent from the low point of the day before. Accompanying the rise was a rumor of a deal for the guarantee of a dividend on the stock by the Delaware, Lackawana & Western and Delaware & Hudson, an arrangement, it was said, that would not interfere with the interests of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio. Delaware & Hudson opened 3 per cent higher at 185 and advanced to 1813/4. Baltimore & Ohio opened ⅜ higher at 80¼, and advanced steadily to 81⅜. Pennsylvania railroad opened ⅝ higher at 122 and crossed 123. All the granger stocks were strong and higher, despite the advancing tendency in the grain markets. Atchison advanced to 58⅝, and the preferred to 88. St. Paul rose 1¾ per cent to 188¾, and Union Pacific rose 1 per cent to 72. The Rock Island issues were strong features, the common advancing to 24 and the preferred to 61½. The street had a story that the Rock Island had bought control of the Seaboard Air line, but this was not confirmed. Southern railway preferred, which on Monday had sold down to 81½, Missouri Pacific opened higher at 89½ and advanced to 91⅝. New York Central closed 2 per cent higher.

The industrial stocks were all strong and higher. The largest gain was in Consolidated Gas, which opened higher at 169¾, an advance to 175, retaining most of the gain at the close. Peoples Gas opened ½ higher at 93¼ and advanced to 94½. Amalgamated Copper opened ½ higher at 40⅞ and crossed 42. United States Steel common and preferred gained steadily throughout the day. The common opened higher at 22 and sold at 23 at the close, while the preferred, after opening at 69¾ and reacting to 68¼, rose steadily to 70⅝. Both stocks closed at the top. American Smelting made a net gain of 2¼ per cent, reaching 44⅜, and Sugar scored a smaller gain, advancing to 114, and closing within a fraction of the highest.

The market as a whole dominated, apparently, more by a change of sentiment than by any important change in actual conditions. There was some disposition to credit the story of a settlement of the differences between two powerful interests in the market, and there were numerous stories of the taking over of blocks of stocks from pools whose position in last week was thought to be a menace to the market. Several railroad reports came to hand for the first week in August, and all of them showed increases over the corresponding week last year. The maintenance of railroad earnings in the face of reported quieting down of general business, and the lighter movement of grain—the primary receipts of wheat are less than half those for the corresponding period last year—is one of the remarkable features of the situation.

In the absence of any plausible explanation for the decline in foreign exchange there is no ground for the belief that manipulation is in part responsible, but it nevertheless has had a good effect, and the prospects of early gold imports are now being discussed. Call loan rates ruled at 1¾@2 per cent during the greater part of the day, and the final loan was made at 1½ per cent. The banks have made a slight net gain through the sub-treasury operations, as compared with a large loss last week, and before the end of the week the transfer of a considerable amount of gold from the Pacific coast to New York will add to the available supplies in the latter market. The money question, however, is not now giving the street any uneasiness.

A feature of the local stock market yesterday was the liquidation in trust company stocks. Real Estate Trust opened lower at 240 and broke to 235 at the close on sales of 220 shares. Commonwealth Trust, on the sale of 60 shares broke $10 a share to 210. Federal National bank declined 4 per cent to 155. Merchants Savings & Trust declined to 63, but later recovered to 63¾. Iron City Trust was offered at 145. Farmers Deposit National was offered at 1,700, but there were no official quotations on Colonial or American Trust.

Pittsburgh Coal was the most active member of the industrial group, and after nearly 1,500 shares had changed hands at 26⅛, the price advanced to 26⅞ bid, at which it closed sid for 500 shares. After the market closed calls at 30, good next week, were in demand at 29 per 100 shares, and some transactions took place on that basis. There was no sales of the preferred stock, which closed at 82½ bid. River Coal common remained unchanged. United States Steel was fairly active, nearly 1,000 shares of the common changing hands at 21⅝ to 22⅛, and more than 1,000 shares of the preferred at 69⅜ to 70⅛. Crucible Steel common sold at 10⅛ to 10⅜, and a small lot of the preferred at 71. Westinghouse Electric was firmer, selling up to 82¾ and reacting to 82. Airbrake made a new low record by selling at 146. National Fire Proofing preferred sold off to 31½ at the close, and the common was nominally quoted at 21½ bid. Natural gas stocks were firmer. Manufacturers advancing to 83¼, and Philadelphia Company to 38. Ohio Fuel Supply was fractionally lower at 30½. There was very little change in the remainder of the list.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Commonwealth Trust yesterday sold at 210, the lowest price ever quoted on the local board, and 864 shares below the record price reached last March, when there was a boom in this class of stocks here. Real Estate Trust opened down at 240 and broke to 235, the lowest price since June, 1901, in which month the stock enjoyed a rise of $75 a share. Last March it advanced up to 350, and in that month nearly 6,000 shares changed hands. Other members of the trust company group were weak, but as the market was narrow, sellers did not force stocks to sale. The sharp declines were generally attributed to litigation of loans in which the stock figured as collateral. The market for this class of stock is fulfilling the predictions that were made earlier in the year that the prices then quoted were largely a result of speculation, which was based upon rumors of consolidations, etc. Not a deposit was made and no active demand for even 5 shares of Real Estate Trust. These institutions are making as much money now as ever, and the fluctuations which follow the peculiarities of speculators have no connection with the real condition of the companies.

After the close of the market yesterday $10 per 100 shares was paid for the privilege of calling Pittsburgh Coal common at 30 next week. Several transactions were made on this bid for 500 shares. Some traders thought it was manipulation for the purpose of "bulling" the stock, the tactics having been used several times within the last year, but there were others who hinted at developments in the near future which would justify higher prices. Pittsburgh Coal common is relatively higher than any other non-dividend paying common stock in the market. It is 44 a share higher than U. S. Steel common, which is paying 4 per cent on par, and $16 a share higher than Pittsburgh Coal common, which is still a non-dividend payer. Coal, however, has always received good support in the market.

National Fire Proofing preferred sold off to 31½ on the marketing of a comparatively small lot of stock. There were no transactions in the common, which was quoted at 21½ bid. The directors are scheduled to meet today to declare the quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the common stock.

The eastern market led the rally in Westinghouse Electric stock, the first preferred selling in New York up to 85, the 2d preferred to 82. On the local board the second preferred did not get above 82¾.

Westinghouse Airbrake made a new low record for the year by selling at 146. The directors are scheduled to meet about one month hence to take action on the regular quarterly dividend. Since December, 1900, the company has been paying 2½ per cent regular and 1½ per cent extra each quarter, or at the rate of 16 per cent per annum. On this basis the stock at current prices pays over 8 per cent.

The gross earnings of Norfolk & Western for the first week in August increased $78,000. For the same week Mexican Central increased $10,000, Southern railway increased $20,000, and Louisville & Nashville increased $40,000.

One of the large eastern life insurance companies is said to have purchased a block of 10,000 shares Delaware & Hudson stock this week.

Merchants Savings and Trust closed at 63 bid.

Owing to the accident at Paris the shares of the Metropolitan Railway Co. dropped in the Bourse quotations from 644 to 500, shares of the Paris Omnibus Company rose from 515 to 990.

One of the day's rumors was that the Reading common stock in the near future would be guaranteed 4 per cent by the Delaware & Hudson and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western companies. This, it is said, will not interfere with the control of the road by the S. & O. and Lake Shore. The rumor could not be verified.

There was a story in Wall street, said to come from good sources, that a serious menace was removed from the market Tuesday night. Various names were mentioned quietly, but they were the outcome of guesses.

Late in the day the eastern stock market came under the influence of a flood of rumors regarding the disposition of the Seaboard Air Line. It was significant of the change in stock market sentiment that a proposition which revealed a large syndicate to be already large volume of securities failed to cause the chill of apprehension which the market has shown at all recent suggestions of the creation of new securities. Equally significant was by Rock Island in the late strong upward movement foreshadowed the official announcement just before the close of a share in control of Seaboard Air Line by Rock Island interests.

One of the veterans of the street remarked: "I am looking for a bigger boom, panic and more failures on the short side of the market on the upturn that is coming, than has taken place during the depression we have had. There are hundreds of bags of bear stock under this market crest and small and still liquidation has apparently filled them many times over, they are still there, and the bears have done nothing for a long time. When a million share short interest would not show in the current of liquidation we have had, but when the situation really rebounds, I pity the poor devils who were long of stock when they believed them worth going to, and who are now short of them when they are selling at greater discounts than ever was the position in the quotations."

The National Biscuit Company has declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1 per cent on the common and 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock. The former dividend is payable October 15. The preferred dividend is payable August 31.

The Philadelphia News Bureau quotes a financier as saying: "There has been much criticism of Mr. Morgan because he did not come to the rescue of shares in which so many of his friends were interested, but it must be remembered that Mr. Morgan has been the center of national and international attack. He would be false to the great position of power he occupies if he did not make his own situation secure from assault. It was a great surprise to Mr. Morgan to find himself so charged the subject of national and international attack after the formation of the Transatlantic Steamship combination, but Mr. Morgan was in the fortunate position of being the first to be put under attack, and therefore was the first to protect himself. He cleaned up the street shorts, avoided war against the advice of his associates, who believed that he was sacrificing the stock too much. He secured cash from the International Mercantile Marine corporation which he did not care to use, and he did what no other man in America could do—he put the market on a sound and permanent footing. Today Mr. Morgan does not care a dollar either in Europe or America. Nobody can hawk his name about either without or with collateral. That is why Mr. Morgan's hand is strengthening all the New England coast while stocks have been tumbling. All the talk about Morgan threatening dire things in the yellow journals is of no importance. Mr. Morgan is still down in New York, and did confer with financial interests, and has steadily bought some of his bankers' bills at 4 84 to 4 84 50 for sixty demand and at $4 82 @ 4 82 10 for sixty bills. Commercial bills, $4 83¼@4 84 and $4 86@4 86½. Commercial bills, $4 82¼@4 82½. Bar silver, 54½c. Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds strong.

MORE INQUIRY FOR BESSEMER

The Supplies Available for Remainder of the Year at Valley Furnaces Are Limited.

FOUNDRY IRON IS STEADY

Buyers of Finished Material Order Frequently in Small Lots—Consumers Are Carrying Light Stocks—Sheet and Tin Plate More Active.

Although there is little buying of Bessemer pig iron being done now, inquiries for prices have been coming in more freely this week than for a long time, one large producer stating that the requests for quotations were more numerous during the last three days than for the three weeks prior to that time. Prices range nominally from $16 to $16 valley furnace, but no orders of any considerable size are accepted at the lower figure, as there are not 100,000 tons of Bessemer available at valley furnaces for the balance of the year. Some small lots of several hundred tons are reported sold here and there at low rates, but sellers are holding firm at not less than $18.50 for good sized contracts.

Foundry iron is holding its own, and some sales are being made all the time. Within the past few days there have been several orders placed, ranging in size from 1,000 tons up to 4,000 tons, the latter being the largest reported. One contract for 3,000 tons was placed this week at $17.50, Pittsburgh delivery. In grey forge iron there has been some selling, and very low prices are rumored. Large producers claim they have not made any transactions at the low point reported for recent sales, and that the range is from $16.50 to $17, Pittsburgh.

Buyers of finished material are purchasing in small lots, only ordering from hand to mouth, as requirements make purchases immediately necessary. That stocks are very light, and buying put off until the last minute is shown by the fact that orders placed are wanted for immediate shipment, prompt delivery being a condition of many of the transactions. Manufacturers say that the number of orders received is large, but all are for light tonnage, while consumers are pursuing a waiting policy, influenced to do this by the flurry in financial circles, and the hope of lower prices. Sellers of structural iron are feeling the effect of strike troubles in Chicago, and have given up hope of seeing much business in this line, until the labor troubles are fought out. The sheet iron and steel and tin plate trade is reported as much better than it was a week ago, however, with the volume of orders largely increased.

Shortage of cars is now a serious matter with shippers of coal, who are feeling it more than coke producers, although the latter are having considerable trouble, and a few mines have already been shut down, though so far not many. Others will go out, however, before long if the car shortage continues, as it does not pay to stock coke at ovens.

Jobbing in hardware lines continues to move along consistently, with commencing to come in for fall stocks from salesmen, who have all gotten into the field again by this time, and there is an excellent demand for hardware. The request for quotations on the scenic is showing an increase, a much larger quantity of these goods moving than for some time. Builders' hardware is moving out in good quantities, and the settlement of the strikes locally in builders' line will doubtless have a tendency to increase trade. Albion tools continue to move out in ever-increasing volume. Window glass still moves fairly well, the definite settlement of the wage question by the Standard Glass Company apparently determining the fact that there will be no higher later on, not lower. Masury paints, colors and varnishes are going out in liberal quantities. Bicycles and sundries still show considerable activity, this really being the heighth of the season for the satisfactory use of bicycles. Prices in all lines continue firm, with some slight advances reported.

PIG IRON PRODUCTION SHOWS A FALLING OFF

Stocks Increased 76,000 Tons During July—Chicago Interests Buy Heavily.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Iron Age tomorrow will print the following:

Our monthly blast furnace statistics show a number of interesting features, most conspicuous among them is the fact that the July production of anthracite and coke pig was only 1,398,683 tons, which is a falling off of 102,560 tons, as compared with June, when the product was 1,673,000 tons. If the fact be taken into account that the latter is a month of 30 days and the decline amounts to over 210,000 tons. This is due partly to what has been most appreciating, the furnaces have not been doing well, a common occurrence in mid-summer, and partly to the fact that a considerable number of furnaces either have blown out or have been abandoned on account of labor troubles. The adjustment of the latter would of course cause a return to larger output, but as it is we onpied 419 furnaces with a capacity of 322,584 tons a week, contrasted with a maximum of 381,727 tons on June 1. To this restriction in the supply of domestic pig iron must be added the cessation of imports. As an offset, the fact must be considered that stocks of anthracite and coke pig iron decreased in July by about 76,000 tons, the natural result of the deadlock between buyers and sellers, which has been going on for so long a time. It is impossible definitely to say to what extent this increase in stocks, in the face of light production, is due to the course almost universally pursued on the part of founders of stripping their yards and relying upon the furnaces to make sole deliveries.

The firm attitude of the Southern association furnaces in holding to prices while being unsettled in all quarters, is beginning to bring up the question whether, after all, their patient waiting may not be rewarded by a surrender to them. The other producers have taken a good deal of business and may show a disposition to withdraw for the present.

During the week large interests in the Chicago market have purchased very considerable quantities, upward of 60,000 tons, more than one-half going to northern furnaces. In other markets more interest has been shown and the undertone is better.

Very little is being done in Bessemer pig. The pig iron committee of the United States Steel Corporation has been in session, but did not recommend any purchases, although, according to estimates, from 75,000 to 100,000 tons of Bessemer pig will have to be bought to cover the requirements of the steel works to the end of the year.

In the finished iron and steel markets there is little life, and even in those branches in which the activity has been most pronounced there is a disposition to shade prices a little. New tonnage is not coming in to keep up extraordinary record of orders of the spring and early summer.

GRAINS ALL CLOSED HIGHER IN CHICAGO

Firm Undertone Pervaded the Pit During Yesterday's Session.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Trading in wheat was fairly active and the general sentiment was inclined to the bull side under the influences of continued light receipts and a better cash and export demand. The opening was somewhat higher, the September option selling steadier to firm, while the September option was easier as a result of lower cables. The advance was due mainly to the active demand for December and May, which has been the feature of the market. On the advances there were realizing in all months, but the feature was the heavy liquidation of September. Notwithstanding the large amount thrown on the market, the declines were only fractional, fluctuations occurring whenever the selling had ceased. The strength in corn was a help in advancing prices late in the day and caused a sharp rally in December and May, which put the former 1c above yesterday's closing figures, against 2c advance in May, while the deferred months were only fractionally higher. Local receipts were 214 cars, with 18 of contract grade.

There was only a moderate trade in oats, prices were firm throughout the day, due partly to the lack of offerings. Crop news was bullish, and there was an improvement in the cash demand.

A liberal run of hogs and sentry prices at the yards caused lower prices in provisions. Trading was extremely quiet, and the market showed little fluctuations. September pork closed 17½@20c lower, at 12.27½; September lard was off 7½c at $6 60, while ribs were down 7½c at $7 82½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 60 cars; corn, 75 cars; oats, 120 cars; hogs, 26,000 head.

The leading futures, reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., members of the Chicago board of trade, Farmers Bank Building, are as follows:

In the Oil Fields

Developments in the lower southwest fields were featureless yesterday. A good producer in new territory, at this time, would attract more attention than a score inside of defined limits. There are two localities of some little importance: The new strike south of Ivanhoe, in Ritchie county, and the Steer-Gas Company's strike west of Weston, Lewis county. The last named is producing about 20 barrels a day and has been connected up with the pipe line. The Ivanhoe well, it was put to pumping a week ago and the war it has been holding up seems to indicate that a pool of fourth sand, deck oil, may be developed. In Ritchie county, the Gas Company and the Southern Oil Company are large holders of territory in the vicinity.

Lots is known about the size of the strike south of Petroleum on the Pickle farm. The well has not been put to pumping and its status as a producer is not definitely known. Report has it that the flow is good, but the grit with the production was estimated to be close to 200 barrels a day.

In Doddridge county, near the Harrison county line, the Eastern Oil Company has drilled its test on the Austin Pope farm through the Gantz sands, including the fifth, and has a duster in all.

In the Whisky run extension, the Carter Oil Company has given its No. 3 on the J. J. Mercer farm its first flow, and it is making its production from 175 to 200 barrels a day.

On the Perry McKinney farm, adjoining the J. J. Mercer farm, the Carter Company has completed its No. 1 and 2 and has a total of 3,000 barrels of producers, each good for 50 barrels a day. North of Cairo the Hudson Oil Company's No. 2 on the Harkness tract is producing 200 barrels a day.

In the Burning Springs district, in Wirt county, W. C. Edwards & Co. have completed their No. 1 on the Hamilton farm, on Spring run, and have a small pumper in the second Cow Run sand.

In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the Taylor Talkington farm into the pay and the well produced 50 barrels the first 24 hours. No. 1 on the A. H. Weidenthal farm has drilled 35 feet into the stray and has a small show of oil.

No. 4 on the M. M. McIntyre farm has been pumping 15 barrels a day for 24 hours. S. P. Starkey's No. 4 has been completed and is not good for more than 10 barrels a day. In the Fallen Timber run district, Smith & Cashdollar's No. 1 on the Jacob Hall farm, and S. Cain farm into the Dunkard sand and have a showing of oil. It is still drilling.

The Ohio oil field in the Marysville district, in Monroe county, W. G. Decker's No. 4 on the Henry Dillon farm is still holding up at 85 barrels a day. In the same district the Tice Oil Company has completed its test on the Justice Clause farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the Keener. The same company has completed a test on the William A. Wheeler farm and has a 10-barrel pumper in the sand formation.

In the Graysville district F. P. Hue & Co. have completed No. 7 on the M. Farnsworth farm and have a 25-barrel producer in the Keener.

Eight miles northwest of Dexter City, Noble county, H. J. Parker & Co. have completed No. 3 and 10 on the Jasper Schutt farm and they are good for 25 and the other 20 barrels a day.

South of Burgettstown, Washington county, Dr. R. O. Gillespie has completed No. 20 on the Elliott heirs' farm and has a 50-barrel pumper.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices and at first ruled quiet, but later became more active, chiefly as a result of switches from September to December and May, which caused a slight decline, more generally through the fact that on the prices between cables and expectations of further unfavorable crop accounts from Brazil, closing steady, net 5@10 points lower. ROCK ISLAND TAPS SEABOARD POINTS

Acquires Seaboard Air Line and Auxiliary Line of Steamships.

NOW THE GREATEST SYSTEM

New Deal Accomplished Despite Opposition of J. P. Morgan—Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., Engineer the Transaction—In Interest of Harmony.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Another great property was added to the Rock Island system today, when, without the use of a single dollar of money, a $125,000,000 deal was completed, annexing the Seaboard Air line, the last independent line of the south. This gives the Rock Island 2,000 miles more of rail, a steamship line from Florida to Cuba and one from Norfolk to Baltimore. It puts Rock Island trains into Washington, Tampa, Norfolk, Wilmington, Savannah and Jacksonville on the Atlantic seaboard. Junction with the Rock Island system will be made at Birmingham over the Frisco. By traffic agreements Rock Island trains can even enter New York over the Baltimore & Ohio from Washington.

Rock Island thus becomes in mileage, capital, extent and richness of territory traversed, the greatest railroad system in the world. Its mileage amounts to almost 20,000, and it exceeds by many hundred miles the great Pennsylvania and New York Central systems. This deal has been under consideration several months, and but for the disastrous collapse of the stock market would have been put through immediately after the Frisco deal was completed. It was not finished, however, until late Tuesday night, when John Skelton Williams, president and stockholder, and the man who has stood out as defying J. P. Morgan's attempts to harmonize southern railroad interests, agreed to the entry into his board of T. P. Yoskum, Henry Clay Pierce, S. Guinness, Oakleigh Thorne and B. F. Van Vorst. Ernest Thalman of Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., of which Mr. Guinness is also a member, has been for some time a director of the road.

Reports that the Frisco had invaded the southern territory and reached the seaboard in defiance of the will of J. P. Morgan, caused the new owners of the property to issue a statement late tonight saying that the deal was in the interest of harmony. It was intimated that Mr. Morgan himself approved the plans before they were finally adopted. His own Southern Railway Company is barred by southern laws from controlling the Seaboard Air line, which is a competing property.

Sessions of the convention will be held daily until next Tuesday. On Saturday all the delegates will go to Mars, Butler county, to inspect the old folks' home, which was recently opened at that place by the joint synod.

LAWYERS UNWILLING TO COMPROMISE CASE

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 12.—Before the resumption of argument today, to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed for the Universal Tobacco Company, Vice Chancellor Pitney called counsel on both sides in an endeavor to effect a settlement, pointing out that if he should appoint a temporary receiver the matter would go to the federal court and that if President Butler and his friends pressed their claims the company would become insolvent. As the lawyers appeared unable to come to any agreement the hearing was continued.

HOBOKEN ASTROLOGER PREDICTS CALAMITIES

Warns President Roosevelt to Care for His Person. Strikes, Riots and Other Troubles Said to Be Due This Month.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.

Dire things are predicted for the country, President Roosevelt and Wall street by Gustave Meyer, an astrologer of Hoboken. In an open letter he says:

"August will prove to be most remarkable and eventful for our government, in particular on the 14th, when I find that it will highly advisable for President Roosevelt to guard his health and person. It will be well for our president to not expose himself in public, if possible, and he should guard himself both in speech and actions more than usual.

"Strikes and riots will be much in evidence, and I fear that our soldiers will be called out to suppress disorder. The fair sex will experience considerable trouble, and we shall hear of some great scandal or outrage committed among the fair sex and considerable trouble will be seen among the press and clergy. Great disorder and trouble in mines and underground places of employment, and some great calamity is indicated to occur to theaters, hotels and pleasure resorts, either in the nature of a fire or otherwise. Pleasures will be greatly handicapped and great panics will occur in the speculative world. I also fear that some great calamity is indicated on the ocean or that some fine vessel will sink.

"The United States will experience destructive storms. The places most seriously affected will be New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Washington, D. C. During August 14, 21, 22 and 23 some great calamity is indicated to occur to children, and Wall street will experience some of the greatest slumps in history, and many a prominent firm will go to the wall.

"On the 14th great naval calamities are indicated. Uncle Sam should not trust his foreign friends too far. I fear that President Roosevelt will meet with some accident to his lower extremities on the 14th, and he must guard against burns and scalds." FRANK A. PARKER.

SHIP SUBSIDY APPROVED BY HOUSE OF COMMONS

Objection to Dealing With Foreigners Was Defeated by Decisive Vote.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—In the house of commons Gerald Balfour moved that the house approve the government's agreements with the Cunard Steamship Company and the International Mercantile Marine Company, providing for the use of the British steamships in carrying the mails and as auxiliary cruisers, under certain conditions.

Mr. Robinson moved an amendment that the "House rejects the arrangements with the Cunard Steamship Company without first ascertaining the terms on which the government's requirements might be met by other companies." Sir Charles Dilke seconded Mr. Robertson's motion.

After two hours' discussion Robertson's amendment was defeated, 72 to 18, and the agreements approved.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

German Kaiser Will Point to Kearsarge's Trip as an Unequaled Performance.

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(Special Cable.)—Prominent naval officers are untiring in their praise of the fast trip of the battleship Kearsarge, which recently covered the 2,855 miles between the Needles and Mount Desert Rock without any stop, at an average speed of over 13 knots.

Naval statisticians, having received the report of the distances covered by the different American vessels present at the Kiel regatta, have come to the result that comparison between the efficiency of the same class in the German and American navies is by no means favorable to the German men-of-war.

There is considerable jealousy among German naval officers, who are naturally anxious to have their ships outclass any others, but the kaiser is said to be quite satisfied, as the greater speed and efficiency of the American vessel will give the German monarch an excellent example when the kaiser's new program for an increased navy shall come up in the reichstag.

It can be proved to the members of that body that Germany does not own a single battleship capable of equalling the Kearsarge's feat. The kaiser has set his mind more firmly than ever that Germany's navy, in comparatively few years, shall be second only to the British, no matter what objections the taxpayers make.

TOLSTOY'S PAMPHLET ORDERED DESTROYED

LEIPSIC, GERMANY, Aug. 12.—The provincial court today concluded the trial of the German publisher of Tolstoy's pamphlet, "Thou Shalt Not Kill," which was seized by the police July 4, on the ground that it contained statements regarding Emperor William, which were classed as high treason. The court decided that the charge of lese majeste had been proven aand ordered the unsold copies of the pamphlet and the plates to be destroyed.

KING OF ENGLAND TRAVELING IN DISGUISE

LONDON, Aug. 12.—King Edward sailed today from Port Victoria, at the mouth of the Thames, on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, for Flushing, whence he will go direct to Marlenbad to take the waters for a fortnight. He will travel incognito as the duke of Lancester, until August 31, when he will proceed to Vienna to pay his accession visit to Emperor Francis Joseph.

BRIEFS OFF THE CABLE.

LONDON—The house of commons accepted all the amendments to the Irish land bill adopted by the house of lords, except two, which are unimportant. It is believed the lords will accept the bill in its present form.

MANILA—The banks of this city will begin to issue the subsidiary coin delayed in shipment. This will relieve the embarrassment which has prevailed for some time among the mercantile houses, due to the lack of small change.

MELBOURNE—A conference of Australian chambers of manufacturers has sent a message to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain assuring him of their friendly response to any possible scheme of preferential trade within the British empire.

LONDON—Lord Curzon's term of office as viceroy of India has been extended from January to May, 1905. In making this announcement in the house of commons Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, added that should Lord Curzon be able to complete his duties in India beyond that date the government would extend his period of office for another term.

PITTSBURGH WORKMAN IS BRUTALLY BEATEN

New York Police Unable to Capture Men Who Made Unprovoked Assault.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.

The police have given up hope of capturing the two men who unmercifully beat Foreman Johnson, while working on the incline of the Long Island railroad at Atkins avenue, Cypress Hills. Johnson is employed by the C. B. Albree iron works of Pittsburgh, which is erecting the railings around the new stations of the tunnel and on the different inclines.

A well-dressed individual walked leisurely along the abutment surveying the work done, with a glance that showed he had been there before. The visitor, who was joined by two husky fellows, made his way to Johnson, whom he asked to show his card. Johnson told him he was paying the men union wages, giving union time and that his firm was a union house and he did not care for the threats of the delegate.

By this time Johnson had walked, while talking down the incline, away from his five workmen, when, near the south side where the wall is ten feet high, the men accompanying the alleged delegate hit him. Johnson fought the fellows as best he could, but was badly hurt.

At the Bradford street hospital, Dr. Edwards said today that he never saw a man in a more badly battered condition. Johnson's eyes were completely closed, while his cheek bones were cut open as if by brass knuckles. The men who committed the assault made their escape.

BLOCKING THE WAY.

Small New York Stores Refuse to Vacate Premises Bought by the P. R. R.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—A small delicatessen store and "weinhandlung" may hold up the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's building of its tunnel under the East river. The contractors started work today in removing the plate glass windows from some of the store buildings on the east side of First avenue, between Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets. In this block there were originally 13 stores.

Proprietors of two stores say that they will hold possession of the premises until the expiration of their leases on May 1, 1904, until they receive the extra compensation they have demanded from the company. One asks $1,500 and the other $3,500. The tearing down of the row will proceed as though the two places were not on earth.

Bogus Bill in Circulation.

A new counterfeit $10 bill of the series of 1891, a clever imitation of the genuine, is in circulation. The bogus note bears a portrait of Hendricks and has the check letter "D." Two defects in the counterfeit that can be easily detected are that the bill is about one-eighth of an inch shorter than the genuine, and that it contains no silk threads.

Fire in the store of J. M. Solomon, a shoe dealer of No. 8 East Ohio street, Allegheny, yesterday, caused damage to the amount of about $2,000. Mrs. Mary Ritman, on the third floor, lost about $300 on furniture. The stock in Solomon's store was damaged only by water.

WIFE NO. 2 TAKES UP PROSECUTION STARTED BY WIFE NO. 1, NOW DEAD

Harry McCutcheon of Homestead is confined in the county jail on a charge of bigamy. He was committed there yesterday by Justice G. W. Giles, on the information of Constable Frank Bell, for court trial. Over a year ago McCutcheon met in Harrisburg a woman whom he induced to become his wife. She accompanied him to Allegheny county and they were married at Homestead. McCutcheon was a traveling man and spent most of his time on the road. Wife No. 1, after the honeymoon, was taken back to Harrisburg and made her home there, McCutcheon visiting her at stated intervals. But in the course of his travels he visited Monongahela and there he met another young woman who appealed to his fancy, and she, it is said, he made wife No. 2.

Wife No. 1 knew nothing of consort No. 2, for almost a year. Then suspecting that something was wrong, she followed her husband to Monongahela and learned of wife No. 2. Wife No. 1 had McCutcheon arrested while he was in Washington, Pa., on a charge of desertion. He was committed to the Washington workhouse for three months.

She then went to Homestead and made information against him for bigamy, as the couple were married there. While McCutcheon was in the workhouse serving a term for desertion, wife No. 1 died. McCutcheon's time was up yesterday and Constable Bell had him arrested on information received from wife No. 2, and he was taken to jail. McCutcheon has a child by wife No. 2.

Animal Expert at Coney Island Finds Himself in Very Difficult Situation from Which He Is Extricated by His Friend from the Rockies.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.

In a cage filled with snarling animals, almost beyond the control of their trainer, a grizzly bear came to the rescue of Trainer Weedon at Coney Island today. The prompt action of the bear in cornering a puma, the instigator of the trouble, enabled Weedon to get the other animals under control and nipped in the bud a free-for-all fight.

The brute hero, "Doc" by name, is the clown bear of a group of a dozen wild animals, which perform in the big arena with Weedon. In the cage were two hyenas, four bears, a lion, a Bengal tiger, a jaguar, a puma and two large dogs.

Near the close of the performance, during which the puma and the jaguar had been particularly unruly, the animals were grouped for the finale on a high step platform. The puma suddenly turned and started around the cage, snarling and snapping. While Weedon was giving his attention to the animal, endeavoring to whip it into submission, the rest of the group left their places and a wild scene followed. The hyenas fought with each other, and one of the grizzlies and the Bengal tiger soon became engaged. The other animals grew so uproarious that Weedon was forced to leave the puma.

Here "Doc" came to the fore. Making for the puma, he cornered the animal and by a continuous showing of teeth and fierce growls kept the enraged beast from moving.

Trainer Weedon, free from the most vicious of the animals, succeeded, after much whipping, in getting the rest of the fighters apart. "Doc" kept the puma cornered until the other animals were in their places. Then he trotted to his corner and sat upon his hind legs, reaching his forepaws toward the trainer for a "handshake." The crowd cheered the grizzly as the puma was driven back to the pedestal.

Stockholder of the Metropolitan Company Asks for Peremptory Mandamus.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Before Justice McCall of the supreme court today John F. Doyle, a stockholder of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, asked for a writ of peremptory mandamus to compel the company to allow him to inspect its books. He contends there has been mismanagement in the affairs of the corporation and that the books need investigation.

Doyle holds about $90,000 worth of the stock and the reason of his application is that the directors have never made any step to investigate the charges he made against them some months ago. The attorney of the company opposed Doyle's application and avered that all of the charges made had been answered months ago.

Georgia Legislature Forbids Punishment of Women in That Manner.

ATLANTA, GA., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—As the result of the whipping of Mamie Deeris, the white woman, at the state farm, the general assembly, before adjourning sine die today, adopted a joint resolution instructing the prison commission to stop the punishment of women, both white and colored, by whipping, and to devise some other form of punishment when it is found necessary.

It is likely that Assistant Superintendent Allagood will be suspended and those who have looked into the case predict his discharge will also follow, unless positive denial of the woman's sensational story.

Strikers Are Enjoined.

Unable to operate its Figart, Pa., plant on account of the interference of strikers with its employes, the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company has obtained a preliminary restraining order against 60 or more persons, 12 of whom are women. The bill was filed by H. W. Croft of the county bench before Judge Francis of Governor of Cambria county. It is returnable August 25. It is said the company will apply for injunctions against the strikers at all of its plants.

PITTSBURGHERS ARE VICTIMS OF ROBBERY

Miss Rebekah Knox Said to Have Suffered by Hotel Theft.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 12.—The fashionable set were gossiping today about the robbery at the Hotel Chelsea. It is known that the guests in the hotel at the time the robbery occurred included some of the most distinguished of the resort's visitors, among whom may be named Miss Rebekah Knox, daughter of Attorney General Knox; Bishop and Mrs. Satterlee of Washington, the Misses Mohler of Pittsburgh, and many others.

Those of the guests who were seen today refused to talk on the matter and would not deny or admit that they had been losers by the pilferings. This mysterious silence is believed to be due to the fact that the persons victimized object to the notoriety. It is known, however, that one guest lost a pair of white pearls which are said to have been beautifully matched and mounted in a Tiffany setting. They were of the size of a cherry stone and were valued at $967.
